Third Spy Pleads Guilty on Secrets

New York, April 26 (AP)—Jacob Alban, accused member of a Soviet spy ring, today pleaded guilty to conspiring with Russians to obtain U. S. defense data for transmission to Russia.

Alban, 64, was the third member of an espionage ring seized by the FBI early this year to confess his guilt.

$5 Million Suit Filed on Unions By Express Firm

New York, April 26 (AP)—A five-million-dollar damage suit has been filed by the Railway Express Agency against two striking locals of the Teamsters Union in the New York metropolitan area.

The agency charges that the strike by Locals 459 and 808 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters is illegal.

The suit, filed yesterday in Federal Court, asked an injunction restraining the locals from continuing the stoppage.

It also sought $250,000 in damages for each day of continuance of the strike — which was two days old when the suit was filed.

No Comment
There was no immediate comment by the two locals, whose 1,788 drivers, helpers and garagemen struck Tuesday evening in New York City and Hudson county, N. J., across the Hudson river from Manhattan.

The company charged in its court complaint that the strike began without notice and in violation of the National Railway Labor Act. The law provides for step-by-step procedure to adjust disputes, and it usually states strike action for 90 days.

The strike followed failure of negotiations to reach agreement on terms of a new contract. The company said the union had asked for wage increases of 52 cents an hour and "substantial changes in working conditions."

Pre-strike wages ranged from $1.96 to $2.21 an hour.

Embargoes Placed
The strike led the Railway Express Agency to place an embargo on less-than-carload rail and air express shipments to and from seven major cities from coast to coast and a number of

32 Ulster Students Named Winners of State Grants

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock today received from the Board of Regents the names of 32 Ulster county high school seniors who have been awarded Regents College Scholarships, including the 12 additional scholarships made possible under the Republican sponsored Brady-Brydges bill, passed by the 1957 Legislature and signed by the governor.

The Brady-Brydges bill provided for 12 additional scholarships in addition to the 20 which had previously been authorized for Ulster county. The legislation was sponsored by Assemblyman William E. Brady of Greene county and Senator Earl W. Brydges of Niagara-Orleans counties.

Each Worth $350
Each of the 12 additional scholarships are worth $350 annually for four years to high school graduates of Ulster county this year.

The 1957 legislation establishes the number of scholarships for high school seniors each year on the basis of five per cent of the number of high school graduates in the state during the previous year. Prior to this legislation, the number of Regents College Scholarships each year was fixed at a total of 3,388. Inasmuch as there were 120,574 graduates in the state last year, the legislative change means the number this year will be increased from 3,388 to 4,979 and that the total number of scholarships for high two cohorts in the plot, Jack Sobel, 53, and Sobel's wife, Myra, 52, entered similar pleas, and threw themselves on the mercy of the court.

By so doing, they apparently sought to escape a death penalty. Federal Judge Richard H. Levett, who received the pleas from all three, set next Friday for sentencing them. Each could get up to 10 years in prison and a fine of $10,000 or both.

The trio, all three of them refugees from the Iron Curtain, were charged on a six-count indictment, detailing spy activities here and abroad.

Pleas to One Count
Their pleas of guilty to one count only, concerning conspiracy with Russian agents to obtain defense documents, photographs and other data, knowing it would be sent to Russia.

The gravest of the remaining counts, the one which could have brought them death if they were convicted on trial—charged conspiracy actually to transmit the secret papers and information.

It is customary when a defendant pleads guilty to part of an indictment for the defense to move for dismissal of the other counts on the day of sentencing.

Held Without Bail
The government has not indicated if it will concur in such a move.

The three spies, originally scheduled to stand trial beginning May 22, are being held without bail.

Alban, a Lithuanian-born man who came to this country in 1947 and married an American woman the following year, had been working before his arrest as a foreman in a Brooklyn tea and spice company.

Arrested Feb. 25
His decision to change his plea from not guilty to guilty came after prolonged consultation with his attorney, Harold O. N. Frankel.

The three were arrested by FBI agents last February 25. Sobel and his wife in their home on Manhattan's West 78th street, and Alban in his apartment on Riverside Drive.

The arrest climaxed a 10-year investigation of a spy ring, whose activities allegedly included clandestine meetings in hotels and restaurants in New York, Paris, Geneva, Lausanne and Vienna.

Thugs Get $85,714

Marseille, France, April 26 (AP)—Seven masked men halted a bank truck in a narrow street of this Mediterranean port early today, forced the truck driver and his two aides out at pistol point and made off with the vehicle and 30 million francs ($85,714) in bank notes.

High School Awards

Scholarships for high school seniors this year will be 6,029. The number of scholarships will increase in the years immediately ahead in line with expected increases in secondary school enrollment and high school graduation.

Scholarships for high school seniors this year will be distributed as follows:

4,979 Regents College Scholarships at $350 for each of four years.

500 Regents Scholarships for Engineering and Scientific Studies at $500 for each of four or five years.

300 Regents Scholarships for

Higgins Indicted on Murder Count of Brooklyn Teenager

New York, April 26 (AP)—Tall, blond Thomas J. Higgins was indicted today on a first degree murder charge in the car-seat slaying of 19-year-old Patricia Ruland.

His head slumped on his chest, Higgins stood before Kings County Judge Carmine J. Marasco as the indictment against him was read.

Higgins, husky, 22-year-old oil burner repair man, allegedly beat Miss Ruland to death April 17 with a hammer when she resisted his advances.

No Prayer Service Is Permitted

Defense Minister Continues Curfew

Amman, April 26 (AP)—Defense Minister Suleiman Toukan today was appointed military governor of all Jordan as King Hussein's kingdom passed through its second day of martial law.

Toukan as military governor will wield tremendous power in the seething country.

24-Hour Curfew

Continuing the almost round-the-clock curfew in Jordan's five biggest cities, the new government of Premier Ibrahim Hashem banned all public prayer services for the Moslem Sabbath today. The idea is to prevent large gatherings which the King's Leftist, Communist and extreme Nationalist enemies might turn into violent demonstrations.

Hashem reported no incidents occurred during curfew recesses yesterday, allowed for the population to buy food. The stay-indoors order was relaxed for two hours in Amman and for one hour in Arab Jerusalem, Ramallah, Nablus and Irbid.

Many Communists and leftist leaders were reported arrested in a roundup aimed at crushing the Communist movement in Jordan.

Ambassadors Called
The premier called in ambassadors and other representatives of neighboring Arab states and gave them the government's version of the developments which have rocked Jordan during the past three days.

Neighboring Syria and Egypt, meanwhile, were reported faced with a demand from Iraq that Syria pull out the 5,000 troops it has in northern Jordan. They are there ostensibly to protect Jordan against Israel, but western governments have feared they might be used to annex part of Jordan for Syria as a result of the kingdom's unsettled condition.

Hussein already had accused his "brothers in Egypt" of stirring up the riots which brought on his declaration of martial law and total curfew yesterday. Withdrawal of the Syrian forces would further threaten Egyptian President Nasser's leadership of the four-nation Arab alliance of Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. But failure to pull out the Syrians risked a clash with Iraqi troops and perhaps the soldiers of Saudi Arabia's King Saud.

Saudi Backing Reported
Syria's President Shukri Kuwaty and an Egyptian delegation flew to see Saudi today after an urgent conference in Cairo with President Nasser. Where Saudi stands still was not clear, but both he and Hussein have taken a strong anti-Communist line and he has been reported backing Hussein in his crack-down on Jordanian extremist elements.

Meanwhile the U. S. 6th Fleet sped toward the tense eastern

Kiwanis Favors City Hiring of Planning Aides

The matter of hiring professional planning consultants for the city was given the green light by the Kingston Kiwanis Club at its Thursday noon meeting.

Presented for action to the club through the medium of a resolution from the Public and Business Affairs committee of Kiwanis, the proposal was read by President H. VanWyck Darrow and passed by a large majority vote.

The favorable decision on the resolution for hiring professional planning consultants preceded the resolution favoring the proposed bond issue for a new junior high school—which was rejected until the May 2 meeting when opposition to the proposed junior high school will be afforded an opportunity to present its case.

CC Membership Campaign Starts In Area April 30

Plans for the annual membership campaign of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce were announced today by George J. Silkworth, chairman of the membership committee.

The campaign has two distinct parts. One is the renewal of memberships which become payable on May 1, the beginning of the Chamber's fiscal year, and the other is a drive for additional membership support.

On or about April 30 a letter will be mailed to all active members inviting them to renew their membership. Membership applications, when approved by the board of directors, are subject to annual renewal unless the member resigns while in good standing. This may be done in writing at any time.

Seek 50 New Members
On Tuesday, April 30 a group of about 25 volunteer workers, under the leadership of George J. Silkworth, will visit prospective members in a one-day drive.

The goal is 50 new members for 1957-58. Last year, 91 new memberships were enrolled.

Many firms, corporations and institutions provide additional financial support to the Chamber of Commerce by subscribing for duplicate basic or minimum

Tape Recording Of Lanza Talk At Jail Missing

New York, April 26 (AP)—One of the tape recordings of conversations of Joseph (Socks) Lanza and his jail visitors is missing, Acting State Investigation Commissioner Arthur L. Reuter reports.

The recording reported missing was made a half-hour before Lanza was released from the Westchester county jail last Feb. 20. He had been arrested Feb. 5 on parole violation charges.

Reuter, who announced yesterday that the recording was missing, told a new conference that this recording might be especially significant. The reason for this, Reuter said, was that Lanza and others in the conversation "might have been less restrained than they had been previously" because Lanza was about to be released.

Not Delivered
Three tapes are on hand, Reuter said, but the records show that a fourth conversation was monitored, and its recording "was not delivered to us by anybody."

Recordings of conversations between Lanza and visitors at the Westchester county jail are scheduled to be introduced at the "watchdog" committee's public hearings which will begin here Monday.

Business Opposition Appears For Check of Welfare Funds

Washington, April 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower's call for government supervision of employee welfare funds apparently faces more opposition from business than from organized labor.

Business organizations contend that whatever scandals have occurred have been in respect to union-operated and not to management-operated funds. The latter type, however, compose some 90 per cent of all employee benefit funds.

The National Assn. of Manufacturers (NAM) favors stiff regulation of union-run welfare-

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who said the plan announced by the Egyptian government earlier this week left much to be desired.

Pay Under Protest
Lodge announced that, pending a final settlement, U. S. vessels will be authorized to pay tolls to Egypt only under protest, as has been the case since President Nasser nationalized the 103-mile waterway last July.

French delegate Guillaume Georges-Picot blasted the Egyptian plan as "a unilateral act." He said it provides no guarantees on freedom of shipping, no guarantees for the cooperation of Egypt and the users and no guarantees for improvement of the canal.

The only way to make the Suez plan binding, he said, is for the operation to be provided for on a contractual basis.

"Only in this way," he said, "can the rights of the users be assured."

Plan Falls Short
The U. S. delegate said the Egyptian plan, set forth in a memorandum to the UN, falls short of the six requirements adopted by the Security Council last October 13 as a basis for a settlement.

He noted especially the lack of any provision for "organized cooperation" in the operation and control of the canal, which Egypt had promised last November in a letter to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

"In view of this lack of provision for organized and systematic cooperation between Egypt and the users," Lodge said, "there is no assurance that the six requirements will in fact be implemented."

Must Work Out Plans
"Perhaps no final judgment can be made regarding the regime proposed by Egypt until it has been tried out in practice. Therefore, any de facto acquiescence by the United States must be provisional and we reserve the right to express ourselves further on the matter in the future."

He said it was obvious that a number of practical arrangements would have to be worked out in putting the Egyptian plan into effect. He did not spell this out.

The Egyptian plan calls for collection of tolls and operation of the canal by Egypt. Egypt, however, pledged itself to submit decisions to international arbitration and to agree to abide by decisions of the International Court of Justice on disputes over interpretation of the convention of 1888, which provides for free passage of all vessels through the canal.

Lodge said that "whether confidence among the users of the canal can be established depends on the manner in which the Egyptian declaration is carried out in practice."

Civil Rights Bureau Veto Brings GOP Slap at Ave

Albany, N. Y., April 26 (AP)—Republican leaders today accused Gov. Harriman of "playing politics" with discrimination in vetoing the GOP's plan for creating a state "Civil Rights Bureau."

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck declared that Harriman rejected their legislation because he wanted to "pose as the inventor of civil rights and civil liberties."

Situation Is Viewed As Serious

No Involvement Seen at Present

Washington, April 26 (AP)—The United States was reported using every resource of its diplomacy today to prevent the Jordanian crisis from exploding into a new Middle East war.

The possibility that American forces would become directly involved in the crisis under present circumstances was generally discounted here.

Events May Change
But no official could say when circumstances might change radically, creating a need for new decisions by President Eisenhower.

State Department informants were extremely reluctant to talk about secret diplomatic efforts in Middle Eastern capitals, but it was understood that American representatives were under instructions to emphasize to all governments there the extreme seriousness with which Washington views the situation and to urge that they do nothing to "rock the boat."

"If there should be outside intervention by the Soviet Union it most certainly would apply," he said. "It might apply under other circumstances too."

Ingredients of War
In advance of the conference, Mansfield issued a statement saying the situation presents "all of the ingredients of a major war . . . it is quite possible that this country will become involved if events are not brought under control." He said Eisenhower has the responsibility "to make the necessary decisions."

Mansfield did not comment after the conference.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, set off on a 2½-week tour of Latin America, saying he did not consider the Middle East situation serious enough for him to delay the trip.

State Department press officer Lincoln White had said earlier that the "independence and integrity of Jordan" were threatened by "international Communism." He did not say from what particular quarter that threat came, in the view of the American government.

No Aid Sought Yet
This assertion coupled with an earlier White House statement that the preservation of Jordan's "independence and integrity" are "vital" to American interests and world peace appeared to provide part of the basis necessary if Eisenhower should decide that American intervention was required.

The phrase "rock the boat" was used by Senate Republican leader Knowland of California

Georgia Man Is Identified as Tunnel Victim

Coroner Francis J. McCordle said today that the man found dead in the railroad tunnel near the Wilbur bridge yesterday was identified as J. B. Hearing, 37, of 620 Woodward avenue, Atlanta, Ga., who was listed as a painter by trade.

The body was found between east and west-bound tracks shortly before 10 a. m., yesterday by George Caddy, of 452 Hasbrouck avenue, and Donald Madison, of Colonial Gardens, employees of the signal division of the New York Central railroad.

Abrasions on the back and a laceration at the back of the skull indicated that the man might have come in contact with, or fallen from a moving train, the coroner said.

The only survivors listed, the coroner indicated, are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wildou Hearing, of Atlanta. Contact has been made with them and arrangements are expected to be made today to ship the body to Atlanta.

Identification was made through cooperation of the sheriff's office.

New Flood Dangers

Dallas, April 26 (AP)—Heavy thunderstorms, high winds and hail lashed a wide section of north-central Texas again today, posing new flood dangers. Gov. Price Daniel said he would ask President Eisenhower to designate the worst flood areas for federal disaster relief. A line of thunderstorms rumbled across central, north central and north-east Texas. Hundreds of persons were evacuated when flash floods struck at Abilene and San Antonio.

O'Leary Gets 10-12 Years

Patterson, N. J., April 26 (AP)—James (Cockney) O'Leary, 63-year-old prohibition era figure, today was sentenced to 10 to 12 years in prison for a murder he committed 28 years ago. O'Leary, a used car salesman, was found guilty of second degree murder March 20 in the slaying of Alex (Schnitzky) Szabo who fell under a hail of bullets in the rear of a Passaic garage on May 2, 1929. The case was brought to trial by a chance discovery of four indictments in a forgotten filing cabinet last December.

The letters, written in Wesley's meticulous script, will be kept in the library of the seminary.

Norway Still Balks At Spain in NATO

Oslo, April 26 (AP)—Norway still does not want Spain in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The Norwegian government made that plain today in publishing an explanation to the Spanish government of statements attributed to Foreign Minister Halvard Lange.

Spain had complained about an interview which said Lange "made clear" that "Norway's point of view has undergone no change and that a Norwegian veto is likely" if Spanish membership is proposed to the North Atlantic Council.

Saying Spain had never applied for NATO membership, the Spanish government termed the statement unnecessary and unfriendly.

Butler Scores GOP

New Haven, Conn., April 26 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler says the Eisenhower administration is "the most shockingly partisan, one-sided administration in our history." And Meade Alcorn, Butler told the young Democrats of the Yale University law school last night, is the new exponent of this partisanship. Alcorn, a Connecticut resident, is the newly elected GOP national chairman. Butler also charged that the administration had achieved its "greatest failure" in foreign policy.

156th FA Officer Will Graduate From Staff Class

LT. COL. F. W. HARKIN

Lt. Colonel Frank W. Harkin, a member of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, Kingston, will be graduated from the U. S. Army Command and General Staff College Associate Course at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., May 4.

The 16-week associate course qualifies officers for duty with the general staff of combat divisions or logistical commands, and familiarizes them with the duties of the general staff at corps and army or communication zone level. A class of 278 U. S. Army officers and 32 Allied officers make up the graduating group.

Colonel and Mrs. Harkin and two daughters, Barbara Joan and Mary Melinda, reside at 9 William street, Kerhonkson. He is the son of Mrs. Carmen E. Harkin, 60 South Oxford street, Brooklyn.

National Guardian Harkin is associated with the Institution for Male Defective Delinquents at Nanpoch.

Humphrey Mum On Resignation

Washington, April 26 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey didn't say yes and he didn't say no today about reported plans to resign his cabinet post and go back into the steel industry.

He issued a statement, however, in which he said "When the time comes for my resignation, it will be presented first to the President."

Humphrey was commenting on reports that he would succeed Ernest Weir as board chairman of National Steel Weir, 84, has announced his intention to step down May 16 because of ill health.

Humphrey's statement said "it is well known that I have been in the cabinet much longer than I originally planned. But as long as I am secretary of the treasury, I will have no other interest."

Humphrey came to Washington when President Eisenhower took office in 1953, with the stated intention of holding the treasury secretary's job for not more than two years. There have been recurrent reports that he was stepping down but he has never said anything to confirm them.

would apply to both union and non union employee funds. So until he says otherwise the President must be presumed to mean that he, like Mitchell, favors a law requiring filing and financial disclosure covering both types of funds.

The NAM's opposition to government supervision of management-operated employee benefit plans was stated in a recent report which spoke of the red tape involved and of possible dangers of disclosing the nature of welfare-pension fund investments. It mentioned also the possibility that unions might try to get a voice in running employee funds now handled entirely by employers.

"We may witness the queer spectacle," the NAM said, "of the federal government putting additional billions of dollars within reach of the same union bosses who have shown so little regard for the funds already entrusted to them."

He was granted a week. James alleges some of the charges under which he was sentenced as a repeater were not felonies under the New York law.

Kleinman sought commitment of Higgins to Kings County Hospital to determine his mental condition at present, and at the time of the slaying.

The government said it would agree only to examination of him to determine his present status—whether he could understand the charges against him.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 26 (AP)—The stock market edged downward on balance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Steels, motors and some oils moved briskly. Oils with interests in the Middle East lost ground on uncertainty over the Jordanian crisis.

Volume had a slight edge over yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 30 cents to $180.70 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregular in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds edged ahead in quiet trading.

U. S. government bonds rose in slow transactions.

Roofing Truck Is Damaged by Fire

A truck and its contents, mostly used roofing material, were badly damaged in a fire on North street near the city dump area yesterday afternoon.

Units from Cornell station, Union and Corbitts hose companies answered a call at 4:17 p. m., and the blaze, which, it is believed, might have started from a short circuit in a unit on the vehicle used for blowing insulation into buildings, was checked with booster lines.

The truck, owned by the Colonial Roofing Co., 43 Washington avenue, was operated by Robert Showers.

Seminar on Asia Set at New Paltz

A seminar in teaching about Asia, scheduled at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz July 1 to August 9, was announced this week by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college.

Sponsored jointly by the college and the conference on Asian affairs, the seminar is being provided for teachers who want to extend their understanding of the people and nations of Asia. Opportunity will be given to explore ways in which school curricula and teaching methods can include greater emphasis on Asian countries.

Varied Topics

Topics to be discussed in the seminar will be in the areas of geography, history, economics, art, religion, and politics. Other aspects of the cultures of Asia and the preparation and use of materials related to these topics will be included.

Director of the seminar will be Oliver J. Caldwell, director, Division of International Education, United States Office of Education, and the associate director will be David H. Kornhauser, associate professor of geography at the college.

Both have had extensive experience in Asian countries. They will be assisted by representatives from Asia and American leaders acquainted with Asia, who will act as consultants. Enrollment in the seminar will be limited to 30 persons who may register for either eight graduate or eight undergraduate credits for a tuition fee per credit. Board and room charges are additional.

Books Available

In connection with the seminar, a special collection of books and other materials will be available in the World Study Center of the college library. Opportunities for individual consultation and research will be available in addition to the regular lectures and discussions.

A number of scholarships covering tuition have been made available through grants from the Asian Foundation and the Japan Society. Teachers interested in further information are asked to write to the director of summer session, State University Teachers College, New Paltz.

Mediterranean in a show of strength, and the U. S. government accepted Hussein's avowal that "international communism" also was to blame for his troubles—an assessment that could bring American forces to the young monarch's aid if he asks for them. As yet he has not.

Urges Restraint

American diplomats in the Middle East were reported quietly trying to prevail on all of Jordan's neighbors to act with restraint.

President Eisenhower's special ambassador, James P. Richards, was ordered out of the area temporarily to confer with Secretary of State Dulles in Bonn, Germany, next week. Richards, who is touring the area to explain Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine, has been a special target of Egyptian and Syrian propaganda, and of Jordan's leftists. Communists and extreme Arab Nationalists.

Radio Moscow trumpeted that the United States was trying by behind-the-scenes machinations "to set up a Jordan government which would adopt the aggressive Eisenhower doctrine."

Hussein's talk of international communism, Moscow asserted, was an "attempt to stir up suspicions against the Soviet Union . . . a repetition of the false allegations which are being used by American propaganda."

Britain joined the United States in declaring that Jordan's independence is essential to Middle East peace, in effect an invitation to Hussein to call for help to save his crown.

But before declaring martial law yesterday Hussein said he did not need outside help.

Police Heads Are To Attend May 8 FBI Conference

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren with a few members of his department, and Sheriff Claude Bell with members of his staff will attend a conference conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the Bear Mountain Inn May 8, it was announced today.

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of New York FBI office, said the conference will be on "Law Enforcement and the Fleeing Felon."

Persons who cross state lines after committing a crime are a major problem to all law enforcement agencies, Kelly said, and because of this the FBI has scheduled 150 conferences on the problem this year.

FBI interest is based on the Fugitive Felon Act, a law which permits local authorities to seek FBI assistance after learning that a person or persons have fled after committing or attempting to commit felonies.

The specific felonies are murder, arson, mayhem, burglary, rape, kidnapping, robbery, extortion or assault with a dangerous weapon.

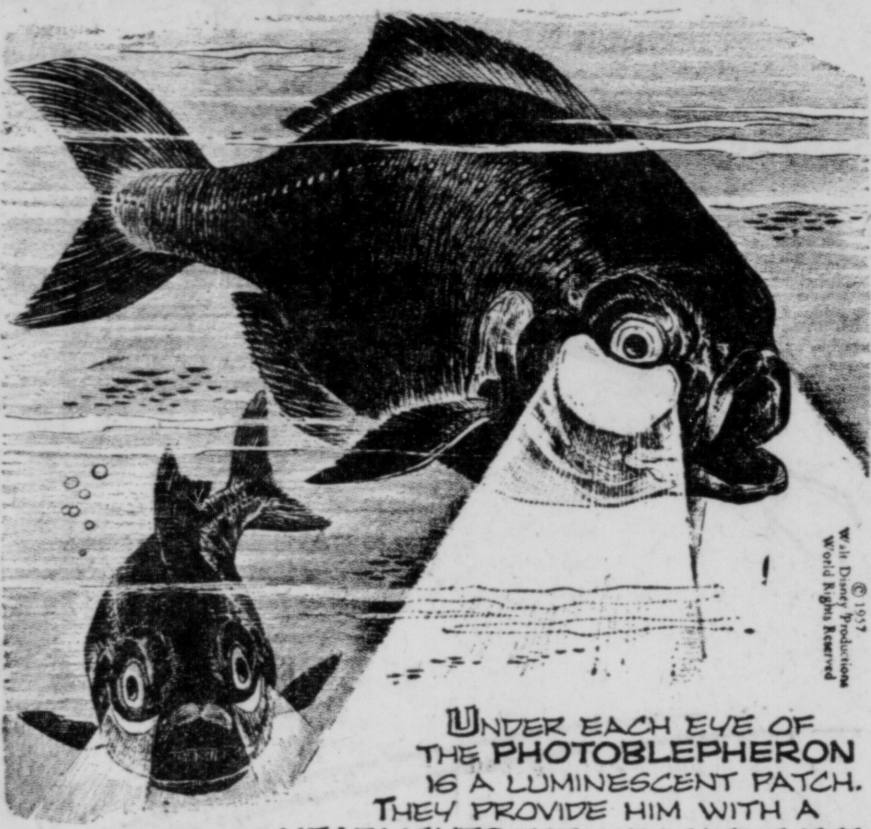

FBI aid can also be sought in locating persons who flee "interstate" to avoid giving testimony in a criminal proceeding where the outcome may be punishable by imprisonment in a penitentiary.

The FBI, since 1952 has conducted over 750 conferences attended by almost 58,000 persons.

Former Tammany Hall Leader Dies

Coral Gables, Fla., April 26 (AP)—John F. Curry, leader of Tammany Hall in New York from 1929 to 1934, died of a heart attack yesterday at his winter home here. He was 84.

Born in Ireland, Curry was brought to this country when six months of age. His first public job was in 1899 as a clerk in the New York city paymaster's office.

Later he became a New York state assemblyman, a deputy county clerk and city commissioner of records.

During his leadership of Tammany, Manhattan Democratic Mayor Jimmy Walker was forced to resign. Taking Walker's place was John P. O'Brien, who was defeated in 1933 after one year in office.

Curry, during his political career, opposed such outstandingly successful Democrats as Alfred E. Smith, Herbert H. Lehman and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In recent years, Curry paid little heed to politics but took an active interest in an insurance business he operated with two of his four sons.

Truck Lighting Regulations Are In Full Force

Albany, April 26 (AP)—Truckers were advised today that the state's new law and regulations covering truck lighting are in full force.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly said this was the effect of Gov. Harriman's veto last week of a bill to delay the effective date of the legislation.

Harriman objected to several features in the bill—including one that would have exempted trucks operated wholly within a city.

The law was enacted in 1955 to take effect last Jan. 1. Harriman had asked that the date be changed to April 1. The vetoed bill would have pushed the date along to July 1.

Truck operators had asked for the postponement. The law and regulations were designed to increase the safety of night driving on New York highways.

Warmth May Bring Apple Blossoms in Valley Next Week

Albany, N. Y., April 26 (AP)—Upstate apple trees will blossom early this year if the present warm weather continues.

Blossoms are expected next week in the lower Hudson valley and possibly in two weeks in the Lake Ontario fruit belt and the upper Hudson valley.

County agricultural agents in all major apple-growing areas hedge their predictions, however, with the comment that a late frost could change everything.

The Albany Weather Bureau declined to rule out the possibility of frost but said the 30-day outlook issued in mid-April called for temperatures at normal or slightly above normal levels.

The bureau said the present warm weather was expected to continue through the week-end.

County agents of Orange, Dutchess, Ulster and Columbia counties in the lower Hudson valley said continued warmth would bring blossoms by about May 1 in the southern section and by May 5 or 6 farther north. That would be about 10 days earlier than normal.

In the Lake Ontario area, trees are well budded but bloom time is two weeks or more away. The siege of sub-zero cold last January did not affect apples, although it virtually eliminated peach prospects and seriously damaged cherry trees.

In Albany county, Agent Norman Kidder said he was not yet able to say what the January temperatures of 25 and more below zero had done to apple trees. He said blossoms might come in two weeks.

Last year, there were no apple blossoms in the Hudson valley until May 15 but they were killed by frost May 26.

O'Dwyer Pension Can Be Increased Now

Albany, April 26 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has approved legislation that makes it possible for former mayor William O'Dwyer of New York to increase his city pension benefits.

The governor made no comment yesterday when he approved the bipartisan bill. It would permit O'Dwyer, an expatriate in Mexico, to increase his annual pension from $6,750 to $11,000—with the consent of his ex-wife, Sloan Simpson.

The measure does not mention O'Dwyer by name. Other retired members of the pension fund also could change their arrangements. The city board of estimate would have to approve in all cases, however.

While he was mayor, O'Dwyer chose a pension option giving $6,750 a year to him and the same to his widow at his death. The legislation allows him to change that plan with Miss Simpson's consent.

Eugene F. Bannigan of Brooklyn, the Assembly Democratic leader, and Sen. John Marchi, Staten Island Republican, sponsored the measure.

O'Dwyer resigned as mayor in 1950 to become U. S. ambassador to Mexico. He now practices law there.

NOT ENOUGH HOUSING

The purpose of a nation's economy is to supply the material needs and wants of its people. The success of an economy is judged by the extent to which it fills these needs and these wants. By those standards, the U. S. economy is probably the most successful in the world.

The dynamic vigor of our economy makes it all the more disturbing that in one important area, housing, we are not doing as well as we should be doing. At present we are not building enough new housing to meet the expanding needs of the people. This fact was underscored again recently by Labor Department figures showing that new housing units are now being built at the lowest rate since 1949.

The biggest reason for the slump in home building seems to be the federal tight money policies which make it hard for prospective buyers to get mortgage credit. George S. Goodyear, president of the National Association of Home Builders, declares that tight money has "kept the home-building industry tottering on the brink of disaster."

Though this is an exaggeration, there is a considerable element of truth in it. However, the home builders' troubles with tight money do not encompass the whole story. Attention also should be given to the fact that the industry is building far too little housing that the low-income families can afford. The development of good low-cost housing would greatly stimulate the industry.

In any case, the fact is that we are not building enough new housing to meet demand or even allow for depreciation. This is a problem that neither Congress nor the home-building industry has dealt with adequately.

BECK'S EXPLANATION

Having tried almost every other role in search of public sympathy, Teamster Boss Dave Beck now is wrapping himself in the mantle of the martyr.

Beck of course concedes that he "borrowed" up to $300,000 in union funds, but doesn't say what he did with the money. He also insists he repaid it. The Senate Labor Rackets Committee isn't satisfied with the whereabouts of some $320,000 in union funds.

Beck's latest is that in refusing to tell the committee how he used the money he is "taking the rap" for a "lot of fine people" who otherwise would be terribly embarrassed.

He implies that some of the money was used for political campaign contributions, but offers no detail, naturally.

There's just one thing wrong with this newest defense. No politician or any other outsider has any power over the Teamsters' treasury. Beck and his fellow union officers have charge of that. If they employ its funds in an unauthorized manner, the "rap" is theirs by rights, and belongs to no one else.

Beck's shoulders are broad enough, but he'll have to find some other mantle to put around them.

THE REAL PROTECTION

If an enemy bombed our cities, what could the inhabitants do? Val Peterson, civil defense administrator, thinks that evacuation is the only answer. Yet evacuation would be difficult for many large communities, and virtually impossible for the largest.

The alternative is bomb-resistant shelters. The construction of enough shelters to house 100 million persons would cost more than 23 billion dollars. And another six or seven billions would be required to build anti-radiactivity shelters for the rest of the population.

Some of this cost might be recovered by using such shelters for hospitals, schools, public garages and so forth. Even so, the cost would be staggering. No mass shelter-construction project is likely. It appears that the best protective measure against atomic warfare is all-out effort to prevent it.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE BUDGET BUREAU

Before we all go broke, let us have a look at the Bureau of the Budget which has expanded itself far beyond the intention of Congress which created it. According to the Constitution, all appropriations are to be made by Congress, originating in the House of Representatives. The Bureau of the Budget was created by Congress to assist Congress in gathering the data necessary for making appropriations.

So what happens? The Bureau extends itself into a forceful arm of government, usurping powers which the Constitution gives to Congress and to no one else. Congress cannot delegate its authority over appropriations to the Bureau of the Budget, but because many members of Congress are hard pressed and no good at simple arithmetic, they ask the experts in the Bureau of the Budget whether an idea for spending the taxpayers' money is good or bad and when the reply comes back: "The Bureau of the Budget interposes no objection," the item finds itself in the Budget and the money gets spent.

Where does the Bureau of the Budget get the authority to interpose or not to interpose an objection? That is the question. Search high and low and you will find no such authority. That power lies in Congress and in Congress alone. It has not been delegated to the Bureau of the Budget. It cannot under the Constitution be delegated to the aforesaid Bureau.

Nevertheless, it is a fact that it is this Bureau which has come up with the $71,800,000,000 budget that suddenly has become sacrosanct and that the chosen representatives of the American people do not know how to cut. Most suggestions during the past week or two for cutting the Budget down to size have been political phonies to give the impression that something is being done about the Budget while actually nothing is being done.

Why elect members of Congress at all? Why go through the hocus-pocus every two years of choosing members of the House of Representatives when the most important task they perform, namely, controlling the expenditures of the government, is performed by a non-elected bureau of government, in no manner responsible to the people?

A member of Congress wrote to me: "Do you know that witnesses for the departments cannot voluntarily express opinions contrary to the views of the Bureau of the Budget?"

"Do you know that after Congress has appropriated funds, the several departments, particularly the military, must again ask permission of the Bureau of the Budget to spend the money thus appropriated?"

"Do you know that after the Congress has authorized certain strength in the defense department, the Bureau of the Budget reviews the authorization and makes the determination as to what extent the authorization will be allowed?"

"Do you know that the Bureau of the Budget maintains its own staff of engineers and 'experts' which in practice and effect supersedes any similar staff of Congress?"

No, I did not know that Congress has so abdicated its Constitutional functions that it permits this appointed bureaucracy to interfere with the rights of Congress. The reason? There are several, not the least of which is that during the New Deal days, members of Congress got into the habit of letting so-called experts do their work for them. Those were the happy days of Corcoran and Cohen and of Lee Pressman and such. Congress became a rubber stamp and members of Congress feared the popularity of Franklin D. Roosevelt and his ability to speak to the "hearts" of the people.

And what started then have become precedents that stick. Another difficulty in the Eisenhower Administration is that an institution is developing called "The Leadership." This exists in both parties and is a lot of political hokum. The people never elected a leadership; they elect their own Senators and Representatives. The concept of The Leadership is European and it is aimed at disturbing the division of powers inherent in our form of government so that the Executive, meaning in this instance, Sherman Adams, will prevail.

In both parties, the institution of "The Leadership" has gained strength because "The Leadership" can get favors from the White House which are no longer available to individual Senators and Representatives most of whom can no more see President Eisenhower to talk to about home problems than they can discuss such matters with Queen Elizabeth.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
SLEEP PROBLEMS IN A CHILD OF TWO

"I am going to give two examples of sleep problems (which generally come under the heading of 'separation anxiety'), one severe, the other mild. The severe type develops when a mother who has always been somewhat overprotective has to go away for a couple of weeks and leaves her first child, without any previous preparation, in the care of someone else. She calls up by long-distance, asking the woman who is taking care of the baby, 'How is he doing?' and is rather surprised and a little hurt to hear he is doing fine. Actually, when you analyze the picture, the child behaves too well while the mother is away. It is when the mother comes home that you realize the terrific anxiety he has been under. Characteristically, he rushes to the mother, clings to her, and won't let her out of sight for several days."

I am quoting Dr. Benjamin Spock in Postgraduate Medicine, who goes on to tell us that this problem is most acute at bedtime. It is almost physically impossible for the mother to detach herself when she is trying to put the child into the crib. If she does succeed, his panic is such that, even though he has never climbed out of the crib before, he will unhesitatingly vault over the side and land in a heap on the floor. It is really a pathetic picture of terror.

The cure of this is quite different from that of the sleep problem due to old-fashioned spoiling in the first year. The mother has to reassure the child and it is a long hard job. She ought not to leave him in the daytime for a number of days, until his anxiety has subsided. At night she ought not to leave him with a sitter since all the anxiety will come back full force if he awakens and finds she is not there. She will have to sit by the crib until he falls asleep and this may well take a couple of hours the first few nights. You have to tell her not to try to sneak out as soon as he is half asleep because if he hears the creak of a board and wakes up, then he will try to keep himself awake even longer. Probably within a week the time he will stay awake will decrease from about two hours to something like 20 minutes. But she will have to sit with him for twenty minutes for at least a month and probably two or three months.

There is the everyday example of very mild separation anxiety that most parents have seen in one or another of their children. This is the child who was always perfectly willing to be put down at night and went right to sleep. Somewhere between one and three-quarters and two and a quarter years of age, he becomes a little uneasy about being left. He says he wants another drink of water, wants to be kissed again, wants to go to the toilet again. The child will keep it up, just as long as the parent is willing. How does the mother assure the child with the mild anxiety? She says, "No, you have had one drink of water, you have gone to the toilet, you have kissed me and you have kissed Daddy. That's enough and now we are saying good-night." What she says in so many words, is "There is nothing to be afraid of."

An Incredible Feat

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington (NEA) — American public opinion has changed noticeably on the high tariff vs. low tariff issue during the 23 years that the reciprocal trade agreements program has been in effect.

Formerly, New England and the whole industrial northeast—north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi—were high tariff areas, seeking protection for their manufactures.

It was the raw material producing South and West—with surplus cotton and wheat to export—that favored freer trade and lower tariffs.

Now, with many textile mills migrating from New England to the South and with manufacturing industries spread all over the United States, this situation is being reversed.

The South is under increasing pressure to protect its infant industries from foreign competition. And the industrial northeast, led by auto and machinery manufacturers, look more to the export market through freer trade and lower tariff on consumer imports.

THIS WAS SHOWN dramatically in two key votes in the House of Representatives on renewal of the reciprocal trade agreements program. Seven Republicans voted for it in 1955. Sixty-six voted for it in 1956. But 36 Democrats shifted from support of the program in 1955 to opposition in 1956.

A recent New England Council survey showed 63 per cent of its member companies, mostly manufacturers, in favor of freer trade and lower tariffs. Last year's U. S. Chamber of Commerce vote showed 64 per cent in favor of lower tariffs. A 67 per cent vote would have changed its traditional high tariff policy.

That change might come at this year's meeting.

There are three principal lobbies operating in this field. Two oppose reciprocal trade agreements, one supports them.

Committee for a National Trade Policy favors the free trade agreements program. It is working now to secure congressional approval of U. S. membership in the proposed Organization for Trade Cooperation (OTC) in which trade agreements could be negotiated with 34 other principal trading nations of the free world. NTP's chairman is Sidney A. Swensrud of Gulf Oil Co., Pittsburgh.

THE TWO ANTI-OTC lobbies are American Tariff League, whose executive secretary is Richard H. Anthony of New York; and the Committee on Export-Import Policy, whose Washington representative is O. R. Strickbein.

The Tariff League represents U. S. manufacturers bucking competition from foreign imports.

Committee on Export-Import Policy presents a front for American workers whose jobs are said to be endangered by competition from low-wage foreign workers producing goods for U. S. import.

One new strategy of the opposition lobby is now apparent. Instead of concentrating their fight against tariffs, they are proposing that more quotas be set to limit imports of goods—like plywood, steel screws and textiles—competing with American products.

Quota limitations of course create many administrative headaches for customs officials. And in the long run, they can have a more restrictive effect against imports than any reciprocal trade agreements.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT facts about the changing pattern of U. S. import and export statistics are generally overlooked in connection with this whole subject of foreign trade.

Since the end of World War 2, in spite of the reciprocal trade agreements program, U. S. customs duties collected on imports have more than doubled. They have risen from 354 million dollars in 1945 to 705 million dollars in 1956.

In this same period, the reciprocal trade agreements have been whittled down so that the percentage of dutiable imports has risen from 33 to 52 per cent. For the first time in 47 years, duties were collected on more U. S. imports than were admitted free of duty. Dutiable imports have risen in value from one to six billion dollars in the last 12 years.

Total U. S. imports have risen from five to 12 billion dollars while total U. S. exports have risen in value from 10 to 19 billion dollars.

So today, more U. S. jobs depend on production for export than on American production of goods which are in competition with imports from abroad.

The 42-line Bible, often called the Mazarin Bible, was the earliest book known to have been printed on the Gutenberg press.

Today in World Affairs

Acheson Article Is Seen As Hurting Foreign Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 25 — Dean Acheson—the man who was responsible primarily for preventing Gen. MacArthur from bombing enemy bases in Manchuria—and thereby winning victory in the Korean war—now has begun to lecture President Eisenhower and to call him a "pacifist."

In a cynical and sarcastic denunciation of "moral force" and a broadside attack on the United Nations, the former Secretary of State in the Truman administration has written a curious article for "Reporter" magazine which can do considerable damage to American policy abroad in these critical times.

Accuses Own Government

Mr. Acheson today enjoys the distinction of being the first American Secretary of State in history to accuse his own government of "selfish ambitions" in another part of the world. He says this, too, in the face of a record of many decades of unselfishness by the United States in world affairs. Mr. Acheson in commenting on the Middle Eastern situation wrote:

"President Eisenhower told us on Feb. 20 that 'the United States has no selfish ambitions or desires in this region.' I fear we must disagree. We have many."

If Mr. Acheson had said merely that the United States has a deep interest in the Middle East it would have been understandable but to attribute "selfish ambitions" to the United States is to ascribe a mischievous motive to his own government. Undoubtedly the Communists will construe "ambitions" to mean territorial ambitions and will repeat it in their propaganda in the Middle East.

Shows Greater Tact

What Mr. Acheson said later on about the "desires" of the United States in the Middle East is much more tactful. He wrote: "Perhaps our greatest interest and desire is that the Middle East shall remain in the political and economic system of a free world and shall not be engulfed by the closed Soviet-Communist system."

"We desire, too, that it remain in such relationship with the rest of the free world that the fuel and sea routes essential to that world shall not be ruinously expensive, uncertain or hazardous. Should this be done, Europe might have to make such terms as it could. These might well be most unfavorable to the United States."

But it is one thing for America to express broad "desires" for a peaceful world and quite another thing to harbor "selfish ambitions" as Mr. Acheson phrased it.

His 'Moral Force' Stand

It is at the term "moral force," however, that the former Secretary aims his shafts of ridicule and derision. Mr. Acheson says: "Mr. Eisenhower at the outset of his political career sought for and found a satisfying firm stance in what he has continually referred to as 'moral and spiritual values.' An ebullient optimism gives expression in what Mr. Eisenhower has called man's 'God-given ability to be master of his own destiny.' "This belief in the supremacy and sole validity of moral power is reinforced by the profoundly pacifist conclusions that President Eisenhower has drawn from the development of Russian capacity for nuclear warfare. Since the consequences of nuclear warfare might well be catastrophic beyond imagination, it is an easy step to the conclusion that all force is immoral and that its use can only be justified to meet a greater immorality — some one else's use of force against one's own country."

"Now it would be quite a valid conclusion that the deterrence of nuclear warfare is one of the highest objectives of policy. But we must never forget that between an opponent who is prepared to use force to gain his end and one who is not prepared to use force to defend his interests—the former is usually the winner."

Record Backs President

One wonders by what stretch of the imagination Mr. Acheson can attribute pacifism to President Eisenhower who in 1955 sought and obtained from Congress authority to use force to defend Formosa and who in 1957 sought and obtained from Congress a resolution proclaiming that the United States is "prepared to use force" in the Middle East. There is certainly nothing in the record to indicate that the President "is not prepared to use military force" to defend American interests when necessary.

Mr. Acheson incidentally will offend some of his worshippers in Britain and France because he says, they were absolutely wrong in their action in Suez last October. He berates them for an "ill planned" and "weakly mounted" intervention. What is surprising, however, is that Mr. Acheson never seems to have read that the President denounced the use of force by the Soviets in Hungary. He intimates that the President condoned the use of force there by the Soviets.

Favored a War

Not so long ago he was condemning Secretary Dulles for using phrases that the former Secretary interpreted as meaning liberation of satellite countries by force. Now he implies America should have favored a war with Russia over Hungary.

Mr. Acheson says, moreover, that he does not believe that "the purpose of American policy is to carry out a 'crusade' or 'mission' to bring about equal justice or to 'vindicate' international law." Many people will be surprised at this and many other comments by Mr. Acheson in the same article.

Americans have not forgotten that had Mr. Acheson been as meticulous in his adherence to military force in his historic speech of January 1950 when—as was often—he invited the Communists to invade Korea, the whole war in the Far East in June 1950 might never have happened and the lives of many American boys would have been spared. AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The worst fault of the administration of the federal income tax is the system of "exemptions" and "deductions." These are political tricks strung onto the original evil of the 16th Amendment. They are appeasements of sectarian religious elements, mighty concentrations of wealth such as the Ford fortune, and alien political forces, including communism. All "exemptions" and "deductions" should be abolished absolutely and all incomes should be taxed straight across the board in the appropriate brackets. In that case each one of us would support his own dependents and his own church out of his own resources. All donations to all "charities" would be taxable as part of each donor's income.

If a man has dependent children there is a theological and social if not a political and practical presumption that when he they will chip in and tide him over the rest of the way. The fact that this is not true does not impair the proposition that parenthood is a private concern.

The taxpayer has not performed a public service in marrying and siring progeny. There is a reasonable presumption, supported by literature and theological and social material, that matrimony has spiritual and domestic compensations which the bachelor and spinster do not enjoy. It is outrageous to tax the bachelor and spinster, and we do tax them as such, to help support the spouses and children of married persons. If a taxpayer supports aged parents, he is doing no more than his duty. That may be either his delight or his hard luck and burden. But however he views it, this is no concern of the taxpayer next door who may be an orphan. The fellow next door may yearn for the sounds of stilled voices.

When we approach the "deduction" of contributions to churches we court a hellish fury. We are bigots and godless infidels. Nevertheless, if I belong to no formal religious group and therefore claim no benefit for contributions to support my pastor and paint the belfry, I am automatically forced to pay toward such expenses of the church which my neighbor goes to and thus to propagate heresy or church power. I don't agree with his religion, but I don't object to his faith and activity. They are just no-notice in my life until Congress says I have to make up the shortage of tax caused by the deduction from his taxable income of the money which he drops in the basket on Sundays.

That ain't fair. Maybe I like to fish or get drunk on Sundays. Let Congress tax him to help pay for that. We have a constitutional provision in the First amendment popularly called "religious freedom" but it provides only that Congress shall not try to establish an official federal church. It was intended to permit atheists to abstain from religious exercise or commitment, but the present deductions of religious donations by some taxpayers to be compensated by higher taxes from infidels is discrimination in a country which rolls its eyes in holy horror over discrimination on racial grounds or against members of any particular faith.

All church organizations and all charities, such as the Red Cross, should pay taxes on their incomes exactly as persons and corporations do. This might not harm them at all in the long run, although I think they would be. If they should be harmed, that would only prove that some of the church members and donors to charity are, as we all strongly suspect, chiselers. They gauge their gifts with a shrewd business eye to the ultimate cost to them in money, after deductions.

In a typical case, a taxpayer gave $1,500 to a friend in terrible financial distress caused in part by the tax confiscations of his earnings for "foreign aid." At his rate of income, the donor had to earn $2,550 that year to "clear" this $1,500. If he had given the same $1,500 to the Red Cross or to the "educational" works of the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League, which maintains professional spies to snoop on loyal Americans, his "deductions" would have brought the actual cost of his bigness down to $450. The discrimination against true charity is a dirty business which degrades Congress, not, however, that many members of the nation's legislature ever feel any guilt. They are horribly cynical, forever courting and raising their own salaries and perquisites, that decency seldom enters their deliberations on revenue acts, except in terms of derision.

The 16th says an income tax may be levied on incomes from whatever source derived. That means all incomes, but the exceptions set in at once. Actually, churches, charities, universities, foundations, unions and a thousand varieties of unworthy institutions pay no taxes and make no returns. Much of their revenue is graft. None of them, even the noblest, deserves exemption and exception.

We can't discriminate between one religion and another! Between one charity and another! Between "educational" rackets most of which are frauds. Tax them all, equally, on their own income and make the donors pay taxes on their donations. Then we will begin to realize that true religion, true charity and true solicitude for the "education" and "uplift" of society are very much unlike the concept which is maintained in the hypocritical sordid revenue acts.

Lane Low Bidder

Berkshire Spur Job

Albany, April 26 (AP)—A Meriden, Conn., contractor is low bidder on the final section of the Berkshire spur of the state Thruway.

The Public Works Department said yesterday that the offer of $10,514,399 by Lane Construction Corp. was low for the job. It calls for construction of 7.96 miles of main highway and 4.76 miles of access roads from the Rensselaer-Columbia county line to Columbia county road 27 near East Chatham.

The Berkshire spur will run from the main Thruway just south of Albany to the Massachusetts line. It will connect with a turnpike to Boston to be opened this spring.

The Thruway job was among 27 highway contracts, totaling more than 42 million dollars, for which bids were opened.

Low Overcall Lacks Point

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

West's overcall of one no-trump was one of those in-between bids that seldom do any good. He had too much for a bluff bid and he had too little for a proper no-trump overcall which shows the equivalent of an opening no-trump.

If he had carried through and gone to five diamonds against the four-spade bid his side would have escaped with a 100-point loss, provided East handled the trump suit correctly. However, West preferred to rely on his high cards to beat the spade game.

South won the opening diamond lead in dummy, led the five of spades and played the king from his own hand. West won with the ace and played the diamond queen.

South ruffed and led the nine of spades. When West played low South allowed the nine to ride. The combination of West's no-trump overcall and East's three-diamond bid indicated that this finesse would work and it did.

Now South had no trouble making his contract. He drew West's last trump and lost one heart and one club trick.

If West had simply kept still throughout the bidding the chances are that North and South would still have reached the four-spade contract. South might still have played the spades correctly, but if he had done so he would merely have been making a very lucky and rather unusual guess.

Once the no-trump overcall came in South was able to make the winning spade play as correct technique rather than as a mere guess.

OUT OUR WAY

OFFICE CAT

Trade Mark Reg.
By JUNIUS

Two men worked side by side in a large office. They never spoke, but each watched the other. One man quit work daily at 4 o'clock. The other toiled until 6 or later. Some weeks passed. Then the harder working of the two approached the other.

Joe—I beg your pardon. Do you mind telling me how you can clean up your work every day at 4 o'clock?

Sam—Not at all. When I come to a tough piece of detail, I mark it "Refer to Smith." I figure that in an outfit as large as this, there is sure to be a man named Smith. And I must be right; none of those papers comes back to me.

The harder worker started to remove his coat.

Joe—Brother, prepare for action. I'm Smith.

Another sign we noticed on a road "Curves are beautiful but dangerous." That means more than one kind of curves.

Fred—Beautiful women are a dime a dozen.

Joseph—Here's a dime, give me a dozen.

Freddie—Honey, I'm only a week old today, because I didn't begin to live until I met you.

One of his hogs has a warm spot in the heart of Farmer John Nelson, of Red Oak, Iowa.

A year ago Nelson lost his watch while working in a field. The other day a hog rooted up the timepiece. It is as good as new now, with a cleaning and a new crystal.

Little Georgie received a new drum for Christmas, and shortly thereafter, when father came home from work one evening, mother said:

Mother—Why do you keep that goldfish in its bowl on your desk?

Manager—Because it's a novelty to have something opening its mouth without asking for a raise.

What television hasn't got in entertainment value it makes up for in monotony!

Employer—How is it that you are late this morning?

Clerk—I overslept.

"Remember? I drank to your health and mine just 10 minutes before we crashed!"

Mother—I don't think that man upstairs likes to hear Georgie play his drums, but he's certainly subtle about it.

Father—Why?

Mother—Well, this afternoon he gave Georgie a knife, and asked him if he knew what was inside the drum.

Caller—Why do you keep that goldfish in its bowl on your desk?

Manager—Because it's a novelty to have something opening its mouth without asking for a raise.

He—Marry me, darling, and I'll make you the happiest wife in 48 states.

She—No, thanks. I don't care to live in a trailer.

Employer—How is it that you are late this morning?

Clerk—I overslept.

Faces Bigamy Charges

Chicago, April 26 (AP)—A 47-year-old machine salesman, who believes he has six wives but isn't sure, was in jail today facing a charge of bigamy. Two of the wives Warren L. Yemm has been living with met for the first time yesterday when they identified him in a police station as their husband. The two women exchanged no words. He stared silently at them. "You see how difficult it would have been," he said, "if I married another at this time. Three wives in one town are too many."

Fire Flares Up

Joliet, Que., April 26 (AP)—A stubborn fire at the 111-year-old Joliet Seminary and classical college flared up again early today after twice having been declared under control. Five firemen have been injured—none seriously—in fighting the blaze that started yesterday afternoon in an old wing of the seminary building. They were on the third floor of the five-story building when a wall collapsed. No students were in the building when the fire broke out.

Gems, Furs Missing

New York, April 26 (AP)—Disappearance of about $22,000 worth of jewelry and furs from the luxurious duplex apartment of Irving Hutter, 55-year-old grocery chain store president, and his wife was reported by police today. The loss was discovered last night after the wife, Edna, returned home to the apartment at 220 Madison avenue after visiting a friend since Monday. The furs, worth about $7,000, were missing from a rack in a bedroom closet. The $15,000 worth of jewelry was missing from a small safe in the closet.

A BURLAR BUDGET

If I read the tea leaves correctly, the Government's "take" in taxes will help clear the Suez Canal and perhaps finance Nasser's Aswan Dam. The Federal budget is a burglar budget. The taxpayers have the right to kick like a Government mule to reduce the "take" PERIOD. It is up to them.

MR. HUTTON and night to get what they call "theirs" out of Congress and The White House. Why should we not call it "ours" and hold on to it?

When responsible people, such as Mr. Hoover and Secretary Humphrey, talk of hair curlers, WATCH OUT! A big reduction in spending can be forced by the power of massed public opinion. Neighbor, write your Congressmen and Senators to stop criminal waste and to put the Hoover Commission's recommendations into effect. This could save 5,000,000, 000 $'s. Cut out this cancer NOW!

So They Say..

The offer (one million dollars for pitcher Herb Score) was made to me today by Tom Yawkey (Red Sox owner) and Joe Cronin (general manager). It was a valid cash offer but I was forced to turn it down.

Desmond Says Roads
Refuse Men Over 40

Albany, N. Y., April 26 (AP)—A state senator says railroads are "blackballing" experienced workers over 40 who lost their jobs through the shutdown of the Ontario & Western Railway.

Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, yesterday urged railroad unions to work through collective bargaining for the elimination of such discrimination. He said in a statement that the brotherhoods might establish a precedent for a "no discrimination by age" clause in contracts that would be enforceable.

The senator, who is chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Problems of the Aging, said a Massachusetts law prohibiting age discrimination had produced only "so-so" results.

Paper Dispute Ends

Harrisville, N. Y., April 26 (AP)—The St. Regis Paper Co. and a union have ratified a new contract, ending a dispute that had closed the plant for several weeks. Members of Local 147, United Papermakers and Paperworkers, approved the contract last night. It calls for raises in hourly pay of nine cents generally and as well as other benefits, retroactive to March 1. Pat Harte, international representative of the union, said the minimum wages for the 160 workers affected had been $1.45 an hour.

Harriman Cites Benefits to N.Y. Under Democrats

New York, April 26 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman said last night that with a Democratic administration in Albany there have been "significant strides toward ending the discrimination New York city suffered for so many years."

Harriman was among the speakers at a $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner of the New York County Democratic Committee at the Commodore Hotel. About 2,200 persons attended.

The governor said that under his administration opportunity has been accorded to the city for "great fiscal freedom," double the amount of state school aid for the city, and a "better break" on welfare.

Harriman called extension of rent controls "an important victory."

"Despite these advances," he added, "the Republican leaders still discriminate against the city. For instance, they refused to give the same assistance to the city's colleges that is provided for community colleges in other communities."

Jet Fighters Grounded

Stockholm, April 26 (AP)—The Swedish Air Force has grounded Hunter jet fighters pending investigation of 10 recent crashes, an air force spokesman said today. The number of planes grounded "is the equivalent of two wings," he added. Sweden's all jet air force totals some 1,500 planes, most of them Swedish-built. The decision to ground all Hunter fighters was taken following another crash yesterday. A number of Hunters from the first series Sweden bought from England was grounded last week.

Presbyterians Name Texan as Moderator

Birmingham, Ala., April 26 (AP)—Dr. William M. Elliott Jr., Dallas, Tex., is the new moderator of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

The pastor of Highland Park Church in Dallas was elected in a close vote over Dr. Stuart R. Oglesby, pastor of Atlanta's Central Presbyterian Church, last night as the 97th general assembly of Southern Presbyterians got under way.

Elliott succeeds Dr. W. Taliaferro Thompson, Richmond, Va. Serving at the Dallas church since 1944, Elliott is chairman of the Board of World Missions of the church. He holds degrees from Park College, in Parkville, Mo., Louisville Seminary, University of Edinburgh, Scotland, and Davidson College in North Carolina.

The assembly tomorrow will elect a stated clerk and treasurer.

CC Membership

memberships at $25 each. At the annual membership business meeting Wednesday night, Chamber president Vincent R. Burns invited members to increase their support by subscribing for additional memberships.

Dues Still Same

At present over 50 firms, corporations and institutions subscribe for two or more basic memberships. The basic dues of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce are the same as they were when the present Chamber was organized in 1945. Many Chambers of Commerce have increased their basic dues. Just this year the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce increased minimum dues to $36.

Computing all memberships at the basic rate of $25 each the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce has a total of 638 memberships for the current fiscal year. This represents nearly 500 different firms, corporations, institutions and individuals.

Blanks Available

The budget for 1957-58 anticipates a total of 625 single and duplicate memberships at the basic rate and seven sustaining memberships at $250 each or a total membership of 695 computed at the basic rate. This would be a net increase of 57 over the past year.

Membership application and renewal blanks are available at the Chamber of Commerce office building.

Prevent Mid-East

yesterday after he and Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) had conferred for 40 minutes with Secretary of State Dulles. It was disclosed also that Dulles and his aides had conferred by telephone with other Senate and House leaders.

Knowland told newsmen that "everyone in that area of the world would be well advised not to rock the boat."

Wait, See Attitude

Speaking against a background of events which included disclosure that the U. S. 6th Fleet was hastily returning to Middle Eastern waters from the western Mediterranean, Knowland also declared:

"The situation is serious from the point of view of developments. Up until this moment there is no armed insurrection, no involvement of forces outside of the country, in a military sense. We will have to wait and see what happens."

Asked whether the President's Middle Eastern policy of using American forces if necessary to protect nations in that area against open Communist aggression would apply in the case of Jordan, Knowland said "it depends on what conditions arise."

However, under the resolution adopted by Congress in March at Eisenhower's request, American intervention would also require a call from the Jordanian government of King Hussein for help. White said that no request for American aid has been made by Hussein so far as he knew.

Officials Hopeful

Officials here clearly hoped that in spite of all the alarm and the worldwide excitement created by the Jordanian affair in the past few days the situation could be worked out without open conflict.

Their hope was in part based on a belief that Russia would not intervene in any forceful way, in part on a belief that Hussein was the backing of Iraq and Saudi Arabia and his own Arab Legion would be able to master conditions within the country.

Knowland said a meeting of congressional leaders with administration officials probably would be held early next week but that if developments made it necessary Dulles would call them into conference before that time.

Meanwhile Dulles took action to pull President Eisenhower's special ambassador James P. Richards out of the Middle East temporarily. Richards has been touring capitals in the region to explain American Middle East policy.

Controversial Figure

Richards has become a controversial figure because of the violent arguments in Jordan over whether he should be received there and whether that country should accept American aid.

Dulles, the State Department announced, has asked Richards to meet him in Bonn, Germany, next week. Dulles plans to leave for Bonn April 30 to attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Council May 2-4. Richards is now at Asmara, Eritrea, in Ethiopia. He has been waiting there for several days for the situation to clarify enough for him to decide what capitals he should visit next. The State Department said that after his meeting with Dulles he is expected to resume his Middle Eastern tour.

Tillson

Route 32 Lighting Concerns Group

Tillson, April 26—The regular monthly meeting of Tillson Civic Association Thursday evening at the firehall discussed the lighting of Route 32 as a town problem. It was suggested that the executive committee attend the next town board meeting and present the association's views to the effect that it would like to have the town provide adequate lighting along this route in Tillson.

A general discussion on the water system in Tillson suggested for study several months ago took place, with no action resulting.

It was announced that the association would be interested in acquiring some sort of memorial to those who served in World War 2 to be placed either on public grounds or in a public building, such as the school or firehall. Further discussion of this will take place at the next meeting. Howard Mansfield presided.

Due to the holiday in May, the next meeting of the association will be Thursday, May 23, at 8:30 o'clock at the firehall.

Nasser in Prayer

Cairo, Egypt, April 26 (AP)—President Nasser, making his first appearance in public since January, prayed in the ancient Al Azhar Mosque today—the Moslem Good Friday in the Holy Month of Ramadan. Nasser frequently uses the pulpit of Al Azhar to make a speech in troubled times but did not do so today. The preacher, however, told the congregation the "Arab nations are facing the most difficult trial." He appealed for unity and reminded Moslems that "enemies of Islam are lying in wait for you."

Veteran Barber Dies

Dallas, April 26 (AP)—Barber Johnny Dickson, 89, who used to number outlaw Frank James among his regular customers, died yesterday. Dickson, who worked at his trade until late last year, said in April of 1956 he had cut his smoking down to nine cigars a day and hadn't had a fist fight in eight years. The colorful old man started barbering at Paris, Tex., at 14, standing on a box to reach the tops of his customers' heads. He came to Dallas in 1887, when the town was far from tame.

32 Ulster Students $5 Million Suit

Professional Nursing at $350 for each of three years.

150 Regents Cornell Scholarships at $200 for each of four years.

100 Regents Scholarships for Children of Deceased and Disabled Veterans at $450 for each of four years.

Over $5 Million

The cost during 1957-58 for the scholarships established this year will be $2,142,650. This cost, combined with the cost for the other scholarships awarded during the past three years and still in operation, raises the estimated state expenditure for scholarships to high school seniors during 1957-58 to about $5,702,150.

Regents scholarship examinations for the year's scholarships were held on January 24-25 and more than 30,000 candidates in about 1,200 secondary schools took the examination.

Individual winners will be notified by the State Education Department.

Scholarship holders will be entitled to $175 per term for the eight terms of his college course while attending any college in the State of New York approved by the Regents for this purpose.

other points hit by separate strikes by 2,000 teamsters on Monday.

The major cities struck on Monday are Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Newark, N. J.

A. L. Hammel, president of the agency, said in Washington yesterday that strikers in these seven cities followed the law by waiting the required period before quitting work.

The strikes which started Monday came at the end of a cooling-off period under terms of the Railway Labor Act. The union was primarily dissatisfied with the amount of retroactivity in a wage increase recommended by a presidential fact-finding board. The company accepted the recommendations. The board recommended a wage increase of 29 cents an hour.

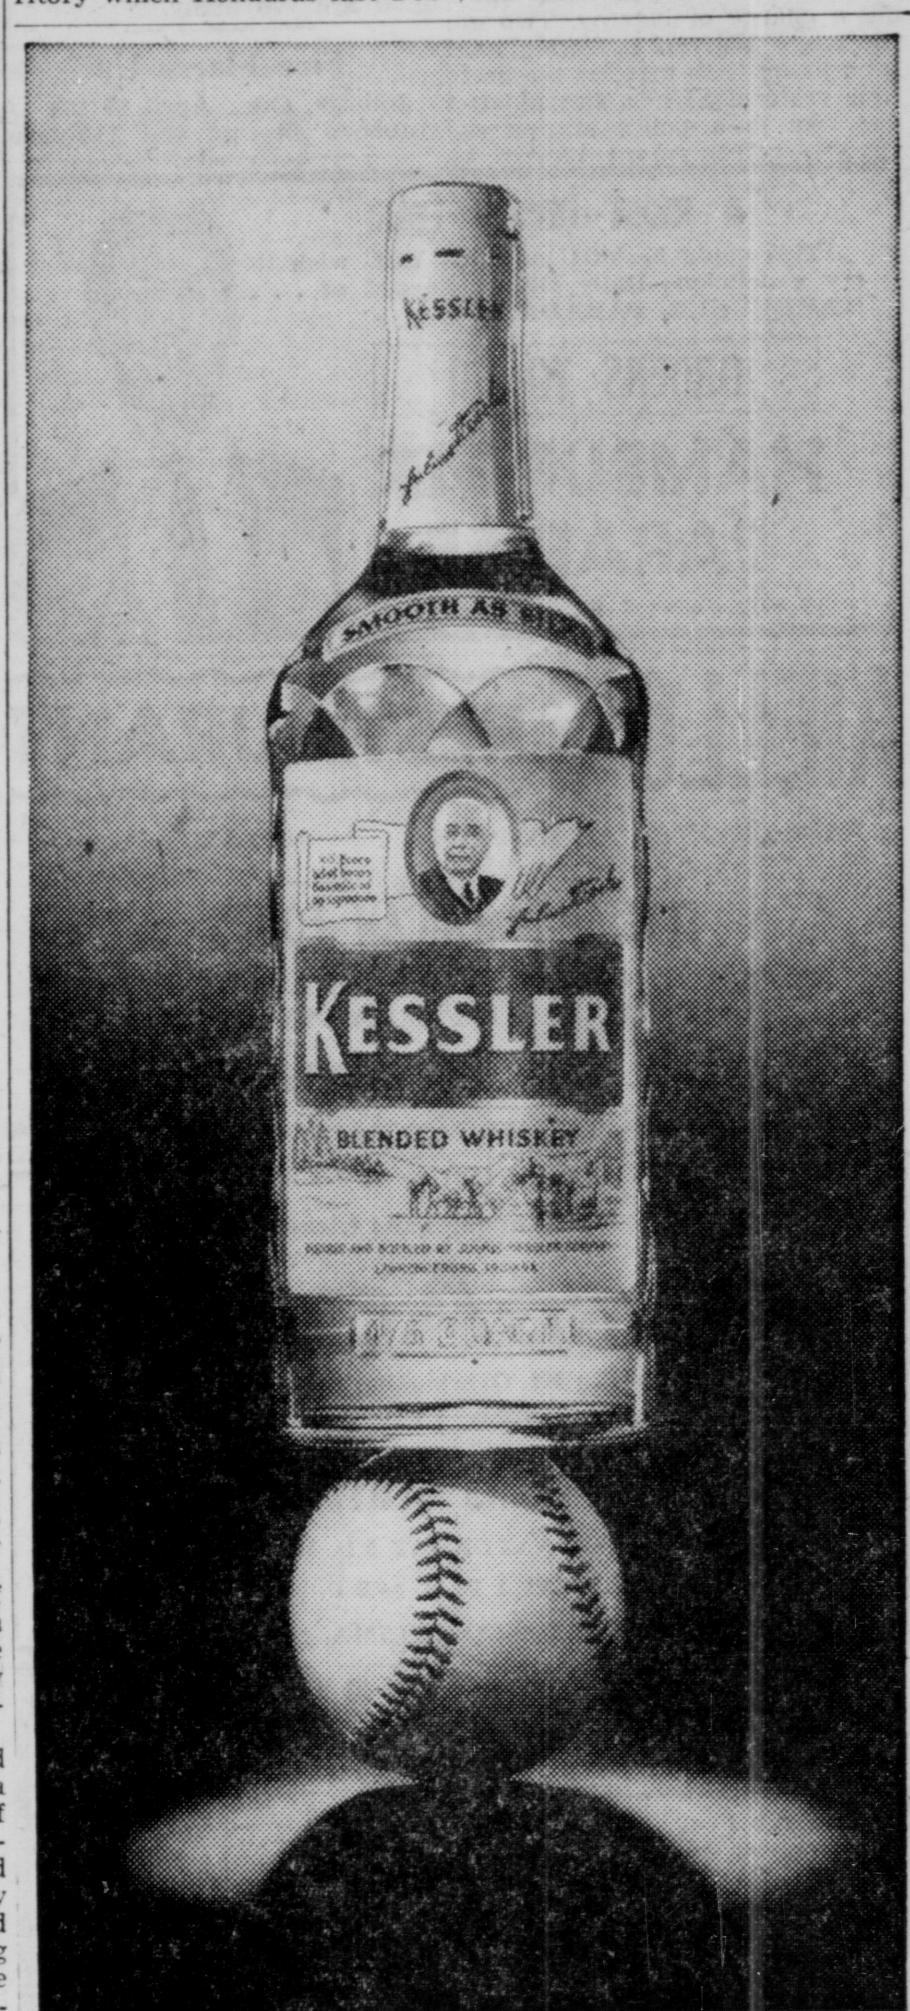

Deal With Red China

Tokyo, April 26 (AP)—Five Japanese companies will ship a million dollars worth of strategic material to Red China this year in part payment for 400,000 tons of coal imported by Japan in 1956. The Chinese will get 4,300 tons of sheet iron, tin plate and cold strip. A spokesman for Yawata Steel, Japan's biggest iron and steel company, said the shipments had been authorized by the West's Coordinating Committee for control of products embargoed to the China trade. "This deal is nothing new," the Yawata spokesman added. "We sold Red China 5,000 tons of similar products in 1955 and 7,000 ton last year."

Honduras Complains

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, April 26 (AP)—Honduras has complained that troops from neighboring Nicaragua invaded a disputed border area. Nicaragua quickly denied it. In a note of protest yesterday, Honduras said Nicaraguan National Guardsmen invaded a school in Sisipara April 12 and the town of Umuru April 22. Both places are located in long disputed territory which Honduras last February made part of its new Gracias a Dios Province. The Hondurans note demanded immediate retirement of the Nicaraguan troops "as well as assurances that this sort of outrage will not recur."

29 Organizations Listed for VFW Loyalty Parade

A preliminary list of 29 organizations who have filed intentions to parade Saturday, May 4, in the annual VFW Loyalty Day parade in Saugerties was announced by John Utter, parade marshal.

The annual patriotic parade sponsored by Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW will kick-off at 2 p. m. from Barclay Heights.

Proclamation Issued

In a proclamation issued today Mayor George P. Holmes of Saugerties declared May 4 as Loyalty Day in Saugerties. He said the event will provide an opportunity for every citizen to reaffirm his faith in the United States of America. Mayor Holmes said, "Each of us should make a personal pledge to uphold their God-given rights in the defense of which thousands of our fighting forces have died on battlefields all over the world."

He expressed his hope that "all civic groups will join on that day to give expression to that loyalty through public demonstrations of all kinds; through the display of our national emblem and through co-operation with our overseas veterans whose devotion and courage continue in peace as sponsors of this observance."

Mr. Utter announced that any organization that has not filed intentions to parade and wishes to do so, contact him at his home or notify Mrs. John J. Wood Sr., of Market street.

List Participants

Participating will be Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League; Lamoree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary; St. Ignatius Loyola Post, Catholic War Veterans; St. Mary's School; Saugerties Central School; Ellenville Post 1455, VFW and Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, VFW; Happy Blue

Denies Missile Bases

Vienna, April 26 (AP) — The Czechoslovak radio last night denied Austrian press reports that Soviet guided missile bases are located on Czech territory. Radio Prague attacked the Vienna independent newspaper Die Presse for its report that missile bases have been established in the vicinity of Karlovy Vary, Liberec and Budejovice, in the western part of the country. The broadcast claimed these and similar reports were "invented" and said they poisoned relations between Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Birds: Boy Scouts of America, Explorer Post 130, Troops 130, 32 and Cub Packs 36 and 130; Ladies Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post VFW; District 2, VFW; O-K-Hi Campfire Girls; fire companies, C. A. Lynch, R. A. Snyder, Malden-West Camp and Exempts Firemen's Association; Woodstock Motor Club; St. Mary's Parent-Teacher Association; Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, the 40 and 8 Engine of La Societe Des 40 Hommes Ete 8 Chevaux; Daughters of the American Revolution; Spanish American War Veterans; Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce members and Miss Saugerties; St. Mary's Singing Blue Birds and St. Mary's Campfire Girls.

Police Chief Suspended

Tulsa, Okla., April 26 (AP) — Tulsa Police Commissioner Jay L. Jones, suspended Police Chief Paul J. Livingston and 14 other men were convicted early today of plotting to break a federal law against bringing liquor into legally dry Oklahoma. A U. S. District Court jury also adjudged two of the defendants — both longtime bootleggers — guilty of conspiring to sell the whiskey wholesale and retail without paying special taxes. Six of the convicted are suspended policemen, all former members of the vice raiding squad.

Let School Wait Till Consolidation Decided: Ryan

Alderman James K. Ryan, 10th ward, told members of the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club at a meeting held Wednesday evening that action on the proposed new junior high school at Dietz Stadium should be deferred until greater Kingston consolidation is resolved.

Mr. Ryan said he felt that with the possibility of consolidation it would be feasible to contain the present enrollment without a new building.

He said he quoted school officials' figures that the present Kingston city school system has an enrollment of approximately 5,800 pupils, of which 1,450 are non-resident.

Mr. Ryan said it was possible that consolidation could absorb the 1,450 pupils making a new school unnecessary.

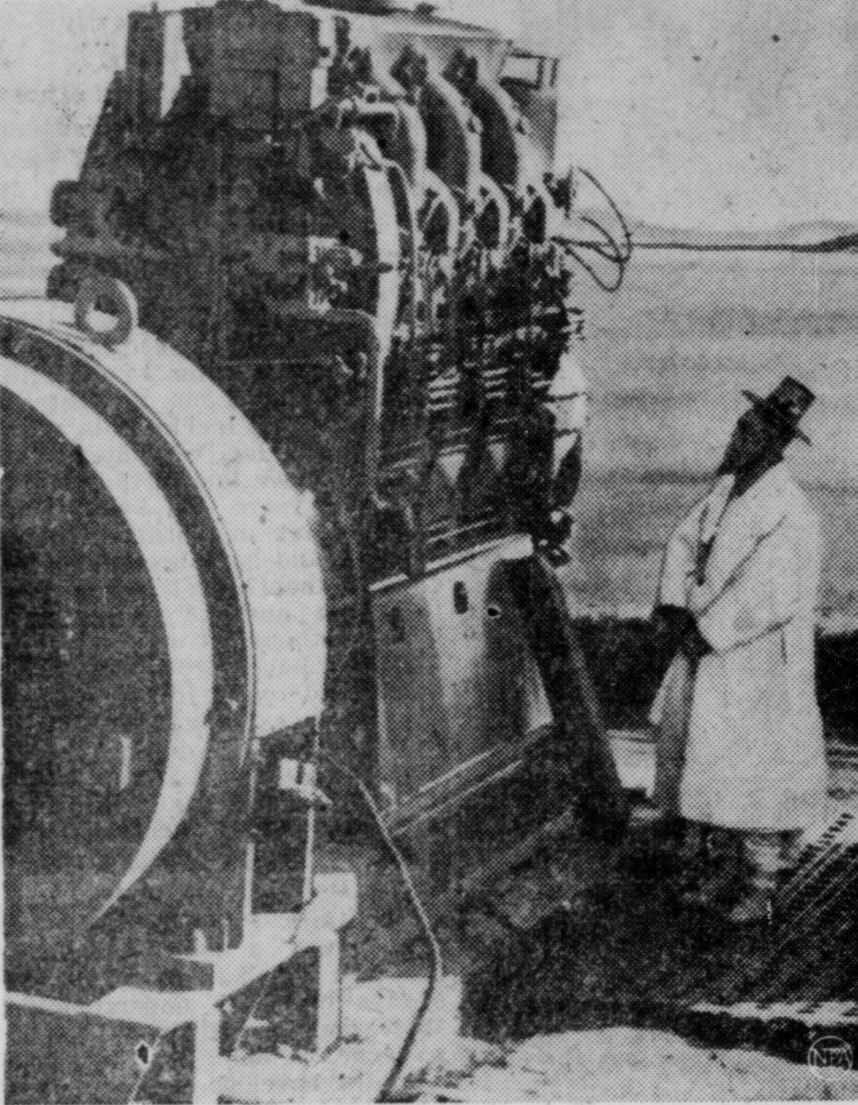

Would 'Wait and See'

He said he was not opposed to the proposed junior high school, as such, but any decision should be held in abeyance "until we see what happens with consolidation."

The alderman also questioned the proposed stadium site because of sewage facilities. Mr. Ryan said information he had received created a doubt in his mind that present facilities in that section of the city would be adequate to handle the new school.

Mrs. Martin Keller, club president, presided at the meeting. It was announced the Day of Political Education, sponsored by the club, will be held Saturday, May 25 at Broglio's, West Park. It was announced also the Democratic women will sponsor a card party Wednesday, May 1 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

With the post office department making news nowadays it is interesting to go back to July of 1897, just about 60 years ago when mail service began in Kingston.

It required five covered screen regulation mail wagons and as many men and horses, and a couple of extra wagons and horses in case of emergency to cover the route. It was also said, it required eight trips daily from the general Post Office to the Union depot for pick up and delivery of mail.

Going back a century, as taken from the 1857 Boyd's Kingston and Rondout Directory, I see Kingston and Rondout both had a post office. Kingston's was at Crown street near North Front street. The postmaster was William Kerr; and clerk was Charles Van Buren.

In Rondout they had one down at Division street corner Lackawanna street. The Postmaster was J. H. Stratton, and the clerks were: H. N. Brown and P. S. Gallagher. The post office closed daily at 9 p. m. but uptown they opened at 7 o'clock and downtown at 6 o'clock.

Sundays they were open also, uptown from 9 to 10 a. m. and downtown from 8 until 9 a. m. to give folks an hour to pick up the mail that might have come in to their boxes. They also gave a listing when the Ellenville, Delhi and Northern mail arrived and when sacks were closed for sending, also for Southern land mail.

According to Judge Clearwater's book, free city delivery began May 1, 1895, with 11 carriers. This was increased to 16 in 1907 when his book was written. Kingston became a first class post office July 1, 1901.

The main Post Office had been located in the old Kingston Opera House building since 1869. Going back to August 17, 1793 the following official postal notice appeared in the Farmer's Register, a Kingston newspaper of that period: "Those gentlemen who wish to have their letters forwarded by Post, are requested to send them to the Post Office at Kingston Wednesday evening."

Then as late as 1815, the list of un-called-for letters in the Kingston office included names of residents in the different towns in the county, indicating that it was then the only Post Office in the county.

They had their trials and tribulations then as now. A newspaper known as the Ulster Plebeian, published in 1815, had great difficulty in delivery of paper to its subscribers in the outlying districts. For a time they had a Post Rider employed, and it cost the publishers over a dollar a year, for each subscriber, which was more than half the price of the subscription.

Finally in 1817, a Post Route was established between Kingston and Milford, Pa. and on November 13, the first United States Mail Carrier left Kingston on horseback, making one trip a week. I wonder if he was a Kingstonian, and if so, perhaps there is a record as to his name.

The Rondout Post Office was established some time prior to 1830 and continued there until 1895, since which time it has been maintained as a station of the Kingston office. The Wilbur Post Office established about 1856 was abolished around 1895. Kingston post office service in all branches in 1927 employed some 50 men.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Discusses Florida

Babson Park, Fla., April 26—Nearly every day I get letters from people asking if I would recommend locating in Florida. As I leave for the North tomorrow, I will try to answer these questions in this week's column. My answer is "No," if you are hoping to get something for nothing; but "Yes," if you are "retiring" and receive a pension check from the North each month or have sufficient income of your own.

Although lacking in a number of important natural resources, Florida has an abundance of sunshine, plenty of water, large amounts of phosphate, and sufficient limestone for cement. It can compete with California and other sections as a mecca for tourists, vacationists, and retired folk. I am told that more than 2,000 people come into Florida each week intending to settle here. Many live on pensions or annuities or income from investments, and therefore have no need to seek employment. Others do need jobs, but not all can find them today.

In my observation, it is rather difficult to get a job in Florida unless you have special skills which the state's few industries can use. However, efforts to get natural gas by pipeline from Texas are now on the verge of succeeding. I predict that parts of the state will have natural gas by the summer of 1958. When the supply of this fuel is assured, industry should move into Florida at a very rapid pace.

New Boom in Real Estate

Mild climate has always been an attraction to prospective buyers of land for homes or businesses. Now that atomic energy is to be an added attraction, I forecast an even further boom in Florida real estate. The present boom will be far different from the "boom and bust" of the 1920's when sellers and buyers alike went just plain crazy. Sharp real estate operators, whose methods are questionable, cannot be eliminated entirely, but Florida does attempt to curb land and stock frauds.

I am bullish on well-located Florida homes already built. I do not hesitate to advise those interested to buy a house, or a lot, in an already settled community. However, I urge prospective settlers in Florida or those anxious to buy land there for investment or speculation to proceed very cautiously. Before buying lots in a new subdivision, you should first see them. Florida offers plenty of opportunity to those who are alert to its possibilities and willing to work hard to get ahead. At this time it is not a good place in which to speculate.

Shopping for Industrial Sites

Florida's lack of oil, coal, and waterpower has been a serious handicap to the development of heavy industry. Actually, light industry has been moving into the state at an increasing rate. Many industrial concerns in the North and Middle West ask me how to go about buying land for industrial use in Florida. My first answer is to buy for cash only, and to use the same common sense they would use when buying land in their own home state. Second — buy something which they feel sure they could rent or sell promptly if they cannot use it themselves.

Florida is growing fast. Where good land in a settled community can now be bought cheap, I advise buying it; but I have a word of caution for those who are in the market anywhere for land for office buildings, factories, or apartments. Plan for much more parking space than you now feel you will ever need. The success of business ventures in any state will depend largely on ease of access and parking facilities.

Provide ample parking for employees, customers, and suppliers. In less than twenty years, I predict that the present number of registered cars will be doubled.

After spending some thirty-five winters in Florida, I believe an experienced and hard-working citrus grower can do well. In recent years the citrus industry has prospered. It should do better in future years as new and less expensive methods for cultivating, picking, extracting, shipping, and preserving the flavor of fruit juices are discovered.

However, do not let citrus prosperity lure you to Florida to grow fruit unless you know something about the business or are prepared to have your interests cared for by an experienced co-operative citrus organization. Also be sure you invest in a frost-proof grove that can furnish you a 20-year record. Don't buy new groves now. Look before you leap!

Quake Rocks Athens

Athens, April 26 (AP)—Athens was rocked by a light earthquake early today. No damage or casualties were reported. Observatory spokesmen said the quake's epicenter was about nine miles northeast of the capital. A series of earthquakes has jolted the eastern Mediterranean area during the past three days. Most have been minor, but 15 persons were killed and 40 injured in the seacoast village of Fethiye, Turkey, opposite the Greek island of Rhodes.

Proposed Junior High Questions and Answers

Syracuse Bishop Is Elected President

Cincinnati, April 26 (AP)—Bishop W. Earl Ledden of Syracuse, N. Y., has been elected president of the Northeastern Jurisdictional College of Bishops of the Methodist Church.

Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke of Pittsburgh was elected secretary at the meeting held yesterday in connection with the semi-annual conference of the Council of Bishops.

The "Colleges of Bishops" are the six subdivisions into which the bishops are divided for administrative purposes.

This material has been prepared under authorization of the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston. Its purpose is to acquaint the voters of Kingston with pertinent information relative to the proposed junior high school and to answer any questions they may have concerning its need, cost, construction and location.

QUESTION: If we do not build the new junior high school, what alternatives do we have?

ANSWER: We have several alternatives: First, we could operate our junior high school on double sessions; secondly, we could rent space in public or private buildings; thirdly, we could use a combination of the first two alternatives.

QUESTION: Would any of these alternatives save us money and thereby keep our school taxes down?

ANSWER: No. In all probability these alternatives would cost us more in the long run than the cost of building and operating a new junior high school.

QUESTION: Why would these alternatives probably cost us more than building and operating the new junior high school?

ANSWER: In operating a double session program or in renting space we would be unable to meet the minimum educational requirements as prescribed by the State Department of Education and thereby incurring a possible loss of about $74,000 in state aid. As our operational costs would be about the same as the operational costs of the new junior high school, this $74,000 would have to be raised through direct taxation. Furthermore, we have not solved the problem of needed classroom space and would have to build the new school in a few years at an increased construction cost.

QUESTION: Would our children receive as good an education as they do now if we resorted to double sessions or the renting of space in other buildings?

ANSWER: No. The experience in other communities where these plans have been tried shows that there is a considerable loss in the amount of education a child receives. Educationally our children would receive a minimum amount of education at a maximum cost.

QUESTION: How can we be assured of obtaining the best possible education for our children at junior high school level at a reasonable cost?

ANSWER: If every eligible voter who wants the best possible educational program for the children of Kingston will make a special effort to go to the polls on May 7 and vote "YES" on the bond issue, they will be assured of obtaining their wish at a reasonable cost.

Two Study Parleys Scheduled May 1 For Fruit Growers

Two educational meetings for fruit growers of Ulster county are scheduled for Wednesday, May 1.

The first will be at 1:30 p. m. at the Dressel Farms on Route 208, south of New Paltz where Dr. Hoffman of Cornell will give a bridge grafting demonstration which should be of great value to growers having problems in bridge grafting.

The second meeting will be at the Hurd cold storage plant at Clintondale at 7 p. m. There Dr. Hoffman will deal with blossom thinning and scab control.

William H. Palmer, Ulster County Agricultural Agent recommends attendance of fruit growers at both the sessions.

Thundersqualls Hit Western New York

Buffalo, April 26 (AP)—Hot, muggy weather returned to western New York for the third day today after furious thundersqualls with winds up to 70 m. p. h. battered the area last night.

Nearly an inch of rain fell within three hours flooding streets. Storm sewers were so overtaxed that at one point here the water backed up and spurted ten feet into the air.

The high winds ripped off roofs, broke plate glass windows and blew down trees. One tree, toppled by a gust, blocked a city intersection for several hours. Lightning caused scattered power failures and touched off at least one minor fire. It struck a shed behind the home of James Nyshta and flames spread to his house. No one was hurt. There was no damage estimate.

Bethlehem Steel Outlook Bright, Ship Demand Big

New York, April 26 (AP)—Bethlehem Steel Corp. ought to operate at around 100 per cent of capacity, give or take a few percentage points, for the rest of the year, Eugene S. Grace, chairman of the nation's second largest steel producer, said yesterday.

"We are not in the category of feeling a let-up in operations," Grace said. "We are on top of the wave in demand for our heavy products."

A big factor in Bethlehem's current operations at 102 per cent of capacity is shipbuilding, Grace revealed. He said the company has orders for three years of capacity operations in its shipbuilding division.

Of orders on hand on March 31 totalling $1,439,000,000 shipbuilding accounted for $890,000,000.

"Shipbuilding is unbelievably good," Grace said. "It's the best program we've ever had, including wartime."

Faces Speeding Charge

John Martin, 33, of New Paltz, was arrested at 7:10 a. m. today by Officers George Dougherty and George Carpozis on the Boulevard on a charge of speeding. His case was put over until Saturday when he appeared before Special City Judge Harry Gold.

Annual Membership Drive Is Launched By Community Concerts Association

Approximately 80 workers will be receiving materials in the next day or two for the annual membership drive of Community Concerts Association to be held May 5 to 11. Captains for the campaign met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. Edward Lefren, co-chairman with Mrs. Bernard Forst of the membership drive.

Although only one week is designated for enrollment of members for next year, those planning to join may do so immediately so that a preliminary report may be made at the workers' meeting, Sunday, May 5, 4:30 p. m., at the Governor Clinton Hotel. As last year a number of renewals have already been mailed to the committee.

The local association has announced the NBC Opera Company's production of "Madam Butterfly" as the major attraction in next year's series of three programs. The company of 100 includes a 45 piece orchestra and the production has been especially mounted for the theatre with opulent costumes and sets.

The artists for the remaining two concerts will be announced as the campaign progresses. Under the organized audience plan, the amount in the artists' budget depends entirely on the number of memberships. All concerts are held at Community Theatre, Broadway.

The current series, marking the 28th season for the local group, closed April 8 with the presentation of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos.

For the first time, the Rhinebeck area will be represented among the workers this year under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Closs. The opening of the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge, will make it possible for those living across the river to attend the concerts with comparatively short traveling distance. Mrs. Closs attended the captain's meeting Thursday and reported a group of six workers in the area.

Details for the campaign were explained to the captains by Mrs. Louis Kegler, local association's secretary, and also a field representative for the New York office of Community Concerts. Workers were reminded to make reservations for the meeting, Sunday, May 5, with Mrs. Herbert Bloom or Mrs. Harold Rakov, by Wednesday, May 1.

Following the meeting tea was served. Miss Emily Rice assisted by pouring.

New Suez Plan Not To Israel's Liking

Jerusalem, Israeli Sector, April 26 (AP)—A foreign ministry official said today the new Egyptian Suez plan is unacceptable to Israel.

He said freedom of passage through the canal is vital to Israel and "we shall vigilantly pursue the securing of this inalienable right."

The spokesman reiterated that Israel intends to try to send a test ship through Suez but that it is a question of timing. He said Israel has no intention of sending a test ship before details of operating the waterway are clarified or while negotiations were under way. The official confirmed reports that the United States three or four weeks ago urged Israel to "act with prudence."

State College To Participate In Open House

State University Teachers College, New Paltz will participate in the New York State open house in over 500 state offices and institutions during the week of April 29-May 5.

Guides will be available at the admissions office to provide conducted tours of the Campus daily, Monday through Friday of that week, beginning at 10 a. m. and at 1 p. m. Visitors are especially invited to see the various college facilities—the Library, College Union Building, the Campus School, and the dormitories. The tours will also include a visit to the site of the 300-bed dormitory which is now under construction.

Proclaimed by Governor

The purpose of the open house week, as proclaimed by Governor Harriman, is to give the citizens of New York a better understanding of their State government. At the same time, it will give the officials and employees of the State, an opportunity to learn how their services can be improved from the citizens' point of view.

Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college, said that the college officials welcome visitors at any time, but he extends a special invitation to prospective students, parents, and other interested persons to come to the Campus during the open house week.

"We are anxious," he said, "to keep the citizens of New York State informed about the progress of the college and hope that they will take advantage of this invitation to learn more about the educational opportunities offered at New Paltz."

Stoppage Spreading

Hudson Falls, N. Y., April 26 (AP)—A mushrooming labor dispute today cut off truck shipments from General Electric plants here and at nearby Fort Edward. The company said the work stoppage had extended to employees who load trucks. Additional production cutbacks were made today. But figures were not available immediately.

Farm Union Head Sees Soil Bank as Failure

Washington, April 26 (AP)—President James G. Patton of the National Farmers' Union says it looks as if the billion-dollar soil bank program is failing.

In what he calls a "hard-boiled" appraisal in part on farmers' complaints, the farm leader lists seven criticisms of the program designed to cut down on production of surplus crops by offering payments for retirement of land.

The seven general complaints—given in the current issue of the union's monthly magazine—are:

1. It has failed to curb production because output has increased.
2. It has been designed particularly for big operators.
3. It is failing to do a "real" conservation job on idled acres—an argument used to justify its adoption.
4. It has been discredited among farmers in some regions by its "political use" in the mid-west corn belt last year.
5. It has been harmed by "too many reversals" and "inconsistencies" in administration.
6. Its outlay of public funds has given agriculture "bad public relations" without any defense from

Secretary of Agriculture Benson. 7. It has been "fatally coupled" with low price supports.

The farmers' union supported the general principle of the soil bank program when it was enacted by Congress last year. But it has been highly critical of farm policies and programs of the Eisenhower administration. In last year's campaign, the farm organization worked closely with the Democrats.

Benson, on the other hand, has said that he is hopeful the soil bank—coupled with government export subsidy programs—will go a long way toward disposing of current farm surpluses by the end of 1960.

But somewhat less optimism has been expressed by leaders of another farm organization, the National Grange.

Roosevelt Backs Nixon for '60

Meriden, Conn., April 26 (AP)—John Roosevelt, youngest son of the late President, says he will make an effort to obtain the 1960 Republican presidential nomination for Richard Nixon.

Nixon is a strong and able leader, Roosevelt told a group of Republicans last night.

Roosevelt, a Republican, said, however, that the GOP "is losing ground with the people." As proof, he offered Democratic control of Congress and recent Democratic gains in governorships.

60 Candidates Trying Out for Jayvees

Maroon Opens Season Tuesday At Arlington High

A large turnout of 60 boys has greeted Jayvee baseball coach Ken Brown and are currently working out daily for berths on the squad.

The opener is Tuesday at Arlington and is one of eight games on the schedule. The home inaugural is next Thursday with Saugerties.

Boice Lone Holdover

First baseman Chick Boice is the only returning player in the large group which is made up solely of freshmen and sophomores. Because of the number, Brown has been forced to alternate his infielders and outfielders on separate days.

Brown has announced a probable starting lineup for the opener, but is not certain who will start on the mound. The assignment will go to either Paul Gardner, Lawton Gavin, Mike Spada or Dan Van Wagenen. Dick De Pietro or John Pareto will catch.

Blue Jays In Front

(By The Associated Press)

Schenectady stood atop the Eastern League baseball standings today as opening series switched to Albany, Binghamton and Syracuse.

The Blue Jays, neatly assisted by pitcher Bob Milo who turned in a five-hitter, last night trounced Binghamton 5-2 and sent the Triplets to the league cellar.

Syracuse hurler Lev Spencer shut out the Reading Indians 3-0, allowing four hits. Albany

Milo a 6-2, 202 pound left-hander, weakened only in the ninth inning when the Triplets scored both their runs. He struck out six and walked two of them. The Jays made five hits, four of them doubles. Jim Davis hit two of them. It was Schenectady's third victory over Binghamton.

At Reading, Spencer, formerly of the St. Louis and Cleveland farm systems, struck out seven and gave up no walks.

Should Stress

Be on Putter?

New York—(NEA)—It is not inconceivable that Ben Hogan would have led this year's Masters after 36 holes had it not been for his unruly putter.

If Hogan had two-putted eight greens instead of three putting them, he would have had 143 for the two days instead of 151. He would have qualified for the final 36 and at the half-way point would have been two shots ahead of Doug Ford, the ultimate winner.

One comment of Hogan's was that the best golfers would win if the greens were funnel-shaped so that balls hitting them would automatically roll toward the hole.

Gene Sarazen, one of the all-time greats, has argued for years that the hole should be larger so that putting would not be so important.

British Netman Is Reprimanded

(By The Associated Press)

London, April 25 (AP)—Roger Becker, Great Britain's No. 2 ranked tennis player, has drawn a rebuke from the British Lawn Tennis Association for his "unsatisfactory deportment" in Florida tournaments this spring.

S. B. Reay, secretary of the British body, said today the reprimand followed an official complaint from the United States L.T.A.

In New York, Harold Lebar, chairman of the U.S.L.T.A. international play committee, said the report resulted from Becker's attitude on and off the court.

Florida officials said Becker was not cooperative, that he played as if he were just going through the motions without caring whether he won or lost and that his attitude was not good.

Becker felt the criticism was unjustified.

"I admit I played badly at times in Florida, but I think my record shows I was doing my best," Becker said.

The early going in "Fear Strikes Out", the celluloid version of Jimmy Piersall's courageous battle to regain his health, was depressing and sinister to this observer.

We thought the emphasis on Piersall's fear and inferiority complex as he journeyed from a Waterbury high school wonder up the Red Sox chain to Fenway Park was slightly overdone.

It was not the young Piersall we recalled Fred Davi mentioning many times. The Kingston Colonial pilot, who knows the Piersall story as well as any man in the world, had the fabulous Red Sox as a bathboy with his nationally famous Waterbury Brasscos during the war years of 1942-43-44-45.

"Jimmy was always an aggressive kid," Fred recalls. "Although mascot, he was first on the field, last to leave it, continually begging for a chance to play in a lineup that included such established major league stars as Billy Johnson, Babe Ruth, Yogi Berra, Ken Wood, Walt Masterson, Gus Niarhos, Randy Gumpert and others."

A Boy Among Men:

Davi finally gave Piersall a chance to play a few innings in the fog end of lopsided victories during the historic 1945 campaign when the Brasscos hit the national press association wires with victories over the Yankees (1-0), Dodgers (1-0) and Phillies (13-3) in one week: Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

That was the year the Brasscos won 28 games and lost only 5 en route to the Connecticut state championship and wins over Connecticut titans as Chance Vought Flyers of Stratford, Conn., Bushwicks, Mitchell Field, Puerto Rican Stars, New York Police and Firemen, Black Yankees, Philadelphia Stars and Brooklyn Royal Giants.

There was class and power in Davi's Brasscos, recruited from nearby naval bases, air fields and army installations. The likes of Red Branch (Yankees); Jimmy Gleason, Cy Block and Doyle Lade (Cubs); Monk Dubiel (Yankees); Spec Sena, Paul Pride (Yanks); Al Cucinello (Bushwicks); Ed Skladany and Red Walsh (White Sox); Syd Grysky and Ken Wood (Browns); Jim Gleason (Cubs); Al Sherer, Dodgers, and Junior Thompson of the Redlegs. Lefty Jim Pezzullo (Phils) and Kevin (Chuck) Connors. Others too, whose right names never made the Brassco boxscores.

Phillies First Victims:

The historic streak started with a 13-3 rout of the Phillies, with Doyle Lade going the route and yielding 9 hits. The Brasscos collected 19 hits off an assortment of Phillies flingers, including Jimmy (Double X) Fox and Ben Chapman. Jake Powell, Mel Triplett, Andy Seminick, Lou Spindell and Tony Lupien wore the Phillies spangles that day.

It was before Jackie Robinson the day the Brasscos shaded the Yankees, 1-0, when Spec Shea and Johnny Taylor, a Negro lad, outpitched Bill Bevens, Bill Zuber and Jim Turner, the current Yankee pitching coach. The game created a near cause celebre when a Yankee star of southern birth refused to bat against Taylor.

The Brasscos collected only four hits off the Yankee trio and Shea, later to become Rookie of the Year with the Bronx Bombers, fanned Charlie Keller twice. Some interesting names on the wartime Yankee roster: George Stirnweiss, Bud Metheny, Russ Derry, Nick Etten, Charlie Drescher, Oscar Grimes, Don Milosevich, Aaron Robinson and Ted Stainback.

Dodgers Fell Victims, 1-0:

Next victims were the Dodgers 1-0, as Al Sherer pitcher a 4-hitter. An obscure Crocker and the better known Art Herring took for a Dodge array that included Ed Stank, Jack Corbett, Goody Rosen, Cronchy Bordagaray, Dixie Walker, Jack Stevens, Louie Olmo, Tommy Brown and Mike Sandlock.

"Those victories have to stand as the biggest baseball thrill of my life," Davi recalls wistfully. "Crowds ranged from six to 8,000 and the Brasscos were the toast of the Connecticut state press."

This gallant promoter, who has done so much for area semi-pro baseball for the past 30 years, has his memories to live with. And he remembers Jimmy Piersall as a brave young lad, who simply couldn't miss the big time. "Jimmy was a natural from the moment I saw him," says Fred. "The picture was somewhat off base, but the ending has to be right."

For Vital Trout Facts

Federation Committee Urges 'Shocking' of Esopus Feeders

A "shocking" survey to determine the number and balance of Rainbow and Brown trout in the Esopus has been recommended by the Trout Fact Finding Committee of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county.

The survey is suggested for the month of July when fishing pressure has slowed down.

The so-called "shocking" process is based on the injection of electric currents in streams. It momentarily stuns the fish, bringing them to the surface where they can be counted.

Chet Joy, chairman of the committee, in his report urging a five-point program, said that due to the number of drastic floods in recent years in the Catskill watershed, the Esopus and its tributaries has received "a blow that only a well planned and balanced program can bring it back to its original standing as one of the outstanding trout streams in the East."

Program Outlined

The program, which the committee urged be placed before the Conservation Department for urgent action, embraces the following points:

1. A "shocking" survey of the Esopus and its feeder streams.
2. A balanced stocking program contingent on the results of the survey.
3. A silting check of clay banks of the feeder streams that continue to deposit silt on every run-off, with stress on stream improvement.
4. Temperature tests of the tributaries with Brook trout stockings in mind.
5. A permanent fish ladder at the dividing weir of the Ashokan Reservoir.

Facts Are Cited

In support of the five proposals, the committee offered the following basic facts and observations:

- a) The shocking survey will determine the number of fish.
- b) The need of such a survey is urgent if the Rainbow is to come back through stocking to hold its own as it once did in natural reproduction.

The spring of 1950 found one of the largest spawning runs ever to emanate from the Ashokan. By July, every large pool had thousands of fry along its edges. November ushered in the famed hurricane "Diane" which badly crippled the results of a record Rainbow cycle run that was five years in the making. Two more floods in 1951, with no Rainbows in the stocking program since, has put the Rainbow at its all-time low.

c) Clay banks in the Chichester and Woodland Valley areas continue to pore silt and mud into the Esopus. The one at Chichester, below the Silver Hollow bridge, creates a serious problem, running silt practically the year round.

d) Temperature tests of the tributaries would determine where Brook trout can be put in best streams available so that the most benefit can be gained from Brook stocking.

Fish Ladder Important

The erection of a permanent fish ladder at the dividing weir is of extreme importance, the committee said. The constant frustration of trout not being able to get upstream to reproduce is responsible for so many going out of the overflow into the lower Esopus from where

Basilio's Brother Scores Knockout

Scranton, Pa., April 26 (AP)—Jo-Jo Basilio, Carmen's 19-year-old brother, needed just 38 seconds to score a knockout in his first professional fight.

The welterweight champion from Canastota, N. Y., watched from the fourth row as brother Jo-Jo, weighing 129, kayoed John Vasquez of Detroit last night in a preliminary bout.

The younger Basilio looked good in the brief flurry of punches. Vasquez weighed 135½. Pete Thomson, 159, of Elkhart, Ind., stopped Charles Simmons, 150½, of New York, in the last round of the six-round main event. A crowd of 664 paid $1.473.

Hyndman Making Patton Prophecy Look Good in N-S

Pinehurst, N. C., April 26 (AP)—Bill Joe Patton, the crack North Carolina golfer, is looking good on a prediction he made a week ago.

"I'll give you the winner of the North and South amateurs" he declared. "Bill Hyndman."

With semifinals carded today, Hyndman, 41-year-old Abington, Pa., insurance man had played the best golf of the week as he prepared to meet 33-year-old Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., another insurance man, in one of the 18-hole matches.

The other paired Hillman Robbins, Air Force second lieutenant from Memphis, Tenn., the medalist and defending champion, against Dr. Bud Taylor of Pomona, Calif.

Blum Bows

Hyndman took a 19-hole quarterfinal match from Arnold Blum, Southern Amateur champion from Macon, Ga., yesterday.

In winning four matches, Hyndman has been six under the par 72 of the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club. Taylor has been three over, Robbins five over and Campbell eight over.

Robbins, 25, was four over par in a 2 up comeback victory over Don Bisplinghoff of Winter Park, Fla.

Taylor, 38-year-old dentist playing here for the first time, was even par in a 5 and 4 victory over Don Weiland of Phoenixville, Pa.

Campbell, improving steadily with each match, was one over as he stopped Lawrence Cook, cross-hand player from Wrightsville Beach, N. C., 4 and 3.

20th Season for Evans

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Al Evans, new manager of the Little Rock Travelers of the Southern Assn., is in his 20th season in baseball. He started pro ball in 1938 with Charlotte, N. C., and the following year finished with Washington. His best year was 1949 when he batted .271. Last year Evans managed Abilene, Tex., in the Big State League. His team finished fifth, winning 73 and losing 67.

many of them eventually land in the Hudson river.

Reports verify their presence in the lower Esopus, for they have been taken as far downstream as Glenelg, only a few miles from the Hudson itself. The committee believes if these trout, of either species, had been able to get out of the lower basin by means of a permanent fish ladder there would be less need for an intensified stocking program now.

Golf Courses Are Obsolete, Sarazen Says

New York, April 26 (AP)—Gene Sarazen said today modern golf courses are "obsolete as a Model-T Ford." He predicted the sport some day would be played on tight, crew-cut layouts requiring less than two hours for an 18-hole round.

"The accent today is on speed," said the 55-year-old one-time champion from Germantown, N. Y. "Everybody's in a hurry. Time is valuable. Land in the metropolitan centers is being gobbled up by real estate developments."

"What's the answer? Shorter, trickier courses 3,500 yards long instead of 7,000 and greater emphasis on brain work than on hitting power. It has to come."

Smaller Area

Sarazen said the golf course of the future would be condensed within the space of a few city blocks instead of covering 300 acres.

It will play a par 56 instead of 72, he added, with every shot calling for a premium on accuracy and finesse. It will be strategically topped with gun-barrel fairways, tenacious rough and tricky, undulating greens.

"In these days, who has time to spend four and five hours playing golf?" Gene asked. "Golf today is an all-day proposition and, as a result, it is a game which for the normal person can be played only on weekends."

Gene said most of the holes would be par three but each nine would have one long hole requiring a good, long belt.

Casper Holds Stroke Lead

Louisville, Ky., April 26 (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., a roly-poly, likeable Californian, was tagged as the man to beat in the Kentucky Derby Open.

He held a slim one-stroke lead over Australian Peter Thomson and Jack Fleck of Rochester, Mich., a couple of proven stalwarts.

The consensus among the competitors was that the 25-year-old Casper—who weighs in at 205 and stands 5 feet 11—has all the shots necessary to solve Seneca course's exacting 6,575 yards of hills and hollows.

Yesterday he fired his second straight 68 to go into today's third round six under par.

Thomson and Fleck added 68's to opening round 69's to trail with 137's. Only 6 of 116 golfers were under par after 36 holes.

Behind Casper, Thomson and Fleck came Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., with 138; Walker Inman Jr., of Bolton, Mass., with 139; and Howie Johnson of Houston, Texas, with 140.

Even with par were Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., Al Beselink of Grossingers, N. Y., Pat Schwab of Dayton, Ohio, Bob Harris of Winnetka, Ill., and Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N. Y.

Elimination Go

Berrios 2-1
Over Bassey

Washington, April 26 (AP)—Miguel Berrios and Hogan (Kid) Bassey, a pair of rugged mites, clash tonight in the next-to-last bout of the world featherweight championship elimination tournament.

Berrios was the favorite at odds up to 2-1.

Bassey, the British Empire feather titleholder, has done all his fighting abroad and few, if any, in these parts have seen him at work.

The winner will tackle first ranked contender Cherif Hamia of France for the 126 pound championship abdicated by Sunday Saddler.

The 12-round bout, at Capitol Arena, will be televised and broadcast nationally (NBC, 10 p. m. EST).

Bassey, 24, has lost only once in the last three years. Manager George Biddles gives his record as 53-10-1, including 16 knockouts. He stands second to Hamia in the Ring Magazine ratings and seventh on the National Boxing Assn. (NBA) list.

The NBA places Berrios second and Ring has him third. He's officially credited with 21 victories, 3 by knockout, against 7 defeats.

Production at GE Plants Cut Due To Labor Dispute

Hudson Falls, April 26 (F)—General Electric Co. plants here and at nearby Fort Edward scheduled production cutbacks for today as a result of a labor dispute.

A company spokesman said last night more workers would be sent home because of "curtailment of normal production flow."

More than 200 workers were idled yesterday. Local 332 of the United Electrical Workers Union (independent) said last night about 400 of the plants' 1,100 production workers either had walked off their jobs or had been sent home by the company.

A strike vote is to be taken some time next week, the union said. About 30 pickets stood at the entrance to the Hudson Falls plant yesterday.

The union said that company truck drivers did not cross the picket line but the company said truck operations were normal.

The walkout began Wednesday at the Fort Edward plant and spread to the Hudson Falls unit.

The UE accused the company of "pushing through" a policy of unfair cuts in piece-work rates, loss of seniority rights and a "speed-up" for day workers. The dispute began when the piece-work scale was cut in one department.

GE said the union had participated in time studies and had agreed to the cut.

The plant produces capacitors used in fluorescent lamps and electric motors.
